

VOL. 2.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1907.

NUMBER 28.

WILL SUPPORT AN EIGHT HOUR DAY

Member for Lethbridge Says There is Work for Coal Commission to do.

Mr. W. C. Simmons, M.P.P. for Lethbridge, is in the city. He speaks with confidence of the prospect regarding the fall wheat in the south. Around Lethbridge the wheat is several inches high. There is no winter wheat killed in the south this year. The Lethbridge district was visited by a warm rain on Tuesday and Wednesday that will improve the crops very much.

Speaking of the coal commission Mr. Simmons says that there is plenty of work to do for it in obtaining information for the legislation that is needed to maintain the harmonious relations between the miners and operators and to insure the ceaseless operation of the mines. He states that the miners are anxious for the eight hour law, workmen's compensation act and compulsory arbitration, and that he will support such measures to a finish.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL FIRM.

Will Not Permit Return to Old Conditions.

Associated Press Despatch. Ottawa, May 17.—"I have no intention of receding from the position I have taken in connection with postal convention between Canada and the United States," said the Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, postmaster general to your correspondent tonight.

This was said in reply to a question as to what answer was to be given to the United States postal authorities' request to suspend the convention for a few months, with the view of returning to the old position of affairs.

Lemieux Will Not Recede.

"From a business point of view," added Mr. Lemieux, "we are altogether too long carrying United States mail for almost nothing. There is no fear of us doing that again. I looked carefully into the matter before we agreed to it and do not intend to recede."

It is understood that Mr. Lemieux has under consideration the carrying out of the arrangement which was pretty well arrived at between himself and the Canadian Press Association recently.

DISHONEST HARDWARE AGENT.

Carries Off Goods After Night.

Associated Press Despatch. St. John, N.B., May 17.—The local agent of McKellar Co., of Toronto, has been robbed of hundreds of dollars. William Mahoney, who was discharged by this firm some time ago, has been doing business as agent for stores and kitchen utensils. He has taken orders from householders at very low prices, and in order to do so he has driven a truck to McCleary's house in the early evening, after the store was closed, and there taken out stuff to fill the orders.

RAILWAY COMMITTEE'S WORK.

Designed to Benefit Both Public and Employees of Roads.

Associated Press Despatch. Ottawa, May 17.—The committee representing railways and railway employees, appointed to prepare a new set of operating rules, have work so well advanced as to be able to present their report to the Railway Commission on June 1st for the consideration of the board. The new rules are designed to further settle the interests of the travelling public, also the safety of employees and the standardization of the rules.

Send Pile Down Disaster.

Hamilton, May 17.—Sand piles caused a serious pitch-in on the radial railway. These pests are so thick along the beach that the rails have become slippery. Motor cars were unable to brake the cars, and a passenger car and freight car came together with a smash. Two motor cars jumped and the passengers were hurt by killed. House were seriously hurt but cars are a total wreck.

CANADIAN BAIL CLEARINGS.

Indicate Increased Activity Over Last Week.

New York, May 17.—The following are the weekly bail clearings as compiled by Bradstreet for the week ending May 16, showing percentage of increase and decrease as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Toronto	$20,453,000, increase 7.81
Ottawa	$12,344,000, increase 34.1
Winnipeg	$1,189,000, increase 24.1
Halifax	$1,300,000, increase 4.32
Quebec	$2,905,000, increase 33.7
Hamilton	$1,745,000, increase 30.4
St. John, N.B.	$1,200,000, increase 6.3
London, Ontario	$1,211,000, increase 6.4
Victoria, B.C.	$1,307,000, increase 48.9
Calgary	$1,077,000, increase 88.0

HAZZLET MAKES ALLEGATION.

Implicating Two Prominent Shareholders of Company—Judge McRison One of Them.

Toronto, May 17.—That Judge Morrison and William Douglas, K.C., as shareholders of the Lake Ontario Navigation Company, conspired with "other" to force the company into liquidation, and that these four also entered a peculiar stock transaction to obtain control of the company, an allegation contained in the affidavit of John Hazzlet, of Kingston, filed at Osgoode Hall today. On Tuesday Judge Testard made an order for the winding-up of the company. To-day Hazzlet applied to have the order set aside on the ground that a majority of the shareholders were willing to pay any outstanding debts. These debts amount to $7,700. The steamer Argyle is the principal asset. She is worth $30,000. Hazzlet and those behind him represent $300,000.

A TORONTONIAN ARRESTED.

Charged With Sending Impure Letters Through Mail.

Hamilton, Ont., May 17.—George R. Cummings, undertaker, Toronto Junction, was arrested last night on a charge of sending through the mails letters and postcards of an indecent character. He is married, fifty years of age, a church member and belongs to several fraternal societies. Information against him was supplied by Miss Lena Tucker, a young woman who lives with her mother on Suffolk place, Toronto. Bail was taken.

HE LEFT MANY CREDITORS BEHIND

R. M. Armstrong, Contractor, Has Hired Himself to Paris Unknown. Liens Filed.

R. M. Armstrong, a contractor in Edmonton a year ago, is no longer resident here. He has departed for Paris unknown leaving his business affairs in a decidedly chaotic condition. It is not alleged that he left the city with well lined pockets, but he did leave a number of sorrowing creditors.

Armstrong had the contract for the erection of the present post office building, which is owned by Smith & Drifell. He sublet the painting to the Henderson Co. and the plumbing to J. Lockerie. There is $5,000 still due Armstrong on his contract. This became known a few days ago and some of his large creditors filed liens on this amount for the amount owing on the contract. Three new liens have been entered at the registry office by Ross Brothers, for $307.47; J. Lockerie for $600; and Lundy & McLeod for $40.48. There are innumerable smaller creditors, including Cushing Brothers and the Henderson Co., who did the post office painting. The Bank of Commerce is also a creditor, but is fully protected.

President of C. M. B. A.

Washington, May 17.—Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, was today elected president at the annual convention of the supreme assembly of the Catholic Brevient society.

SNOW IN ROME THIS WINTER

O. M. Biggar Returns From Trip to Italy. Enquiries of Canada Everywhere.

Mr. O. M. Biggar, of Short, Cross & Biggar, returned yesterday from a six weeks trip to Europe. Mr. Biggar went to Europe to visit his parents and sister, who have been living in Rome for the last two years. Mr. Biggar says that snow fell in Rome this winter, the first in many years. The ancient city is usually thronged with travellers and holiday-seekers this season.

Mr. Biggar's route lay from New York to Genoa via the Aeolian and Gibraltar, and thence to Rome by train. He also visited Naples, from which port he sailed on his return to New York. He says he was impressed by the interest evinced by travellers everywhere in the Canadian West. Everyone was ready to solicit and obtain all the information possible about this country, and especially its mineral resources.

Speaking of weather conditions Mr. Biggar remarked that Alberta was at the height of its glory in this respect as the result of the Eastern States of Canada. In Italy two weeks ago the conditions were such as to suggest comparison with the weather here yesterday.

CANADIAN CLUB.

Has Been Organized in Lethbridge With Forty Members.

Lethbridge, May 17.—A Canadian Club with forty members was organized tonight and will hold fortnightly luncheons. The officers are as follows: President, Senator DeVeber; vice-presidents, Rev. J. S. Chivers and L. E. Patterson; literary secretary, Rev. A. M. Gordon; secretary, A. Ripley; treasurer, G. H. Johnston.

Suffocated in a Fire.

Buffalo, May 17.—Charles Maddison was suffocated and John Swanson badly burned in a fire that started in the upper part of the St. Charles Hotel, a lower Main street lodging-house tonight. Both were sailors and came here from Chicago today on the large Tilden. The fire started in their room, and it is supposed to have been caused by a lighted pipe setting fire to the bed clothes.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATED.

Repeatedly at Woodbine Race Track Every Month.

Toronto, May 17.—Rev. Dr. Chown received information that violation of the liquor law was constantly resorted to by managers of the Woodbine race track, which the commission has been to have three bars for the sale of liquor instead of one. During the progress of the races bars are opened under the grand stand, and the club room is converted into their room, and run them. The law distinctly states that only one bar shall be allowed, and the government, having been requested to take action must see that drinking is cut out tomorrow.

CROWN PRINCE FUJIMHI.

Will Be Entertained in Canada With Every Honor.

Ottawa, May 17.—Crown Prince Fujimhi will be entertained in Canada with all the honors that would be accorded a British Prince. In Toronto the prince will be entertained by Lieutenant-Governor Clark, and in Ottawa by the Governor-General. The Prince will be the guest of the government from the time he arrives in the country until he leaves.

UNIQUE MEDICAL CASE.

Toronto, May 17.—The Ontario Medical Council has a queer case on its hands in preserving the exclusive sanctity of the medical profession against invasion by Indian Chief Hill, of Ojibwa, who is the offender. He has practised medicine among the Indians but escaped conviction on the ground of being a ward of the crown and not amenable to ordinary human law. The Medical council will appeal.

Twenty-four Years Ago

From Old Files of the Bulletin, May 12, 1883.

Wheat sowing is finished.

D. McLeod and M. Ross are having a fine time at the Island. They will wait the tide down.

Messrs. W. F. Bredin and Mr. MacLeod and son, arrived from Winnipeg via Swift Current yesterday afternoon.

Tracklaying and grading commenced on the C. P. R. about the middle of April, a month earlier than last season.

Mr. McLaughlin, of the H. B. Co. land department, is expected here shortly to settle matters in regard to lots on the H. B. Co. town plot.

Upwards of one hundred people attended the nomination of candidates for membership in the Northwest council, held in the public school house, Edmonton, on Tuesday last.

Wheat seeding is over, both at Edmonton, St. Albert and Fort Saskatchewan, and barley sowing soon will be. The seed time has been most favorable, and grain is growing well, although the weather has been so dry.

W. R. Breerton, of the H. B. Co.

has been on a trading expedition. He says that the shipment, from the west, of the mountains, report that large quantities of supplies are being distributed along the C. P. R. line from Kamloops to Tele Jaune Cache, and that a large amount is being stored at the Cache, where four men are in charge.

There was a dance on Tuesday, 27th March, under the auspices of Messrs. Thompson and McKay and others of Mr. Brown's party, and it was quite an event as Mr. Brown certainly did not attend the dance. I will not attempt to describe the costumes of the ladies, but let it suffice to say that the H. B. Co. had just that day received a bale of cotton from Edmonton—Correspondence from Slave Lake.

Joe Macdonald arrived from Winnipeg on Saturday, May 12th. His car arrived with freight for J. A. Macdonald & Co., on the 15th. He reports that there is great activity in railroad matters in Winnipeg.

The C. P. R. is to be completed to Calgary by Langdon, Sheppard & Co., in August next. Several Main line and Northwestern have unlimited English capital at its back, and a great deal of the stock is held in Winnipeg. Their objective points are Prince Albert, Edmonton and Athabasca Landing. They expect to reach the latter place in three years. They mean business.

L. Kelly, who went east via Calgary some time ago, was coming in on the train from Maple Creek. His point about eight miles west of Swift Current the road bed and train sank in a piece of alkali ground, and the passengers were obliged to walk to Swift Current. Several days elapsed before the train was got out and the road made good. Swift Current was a lively place, but the town consisted principally of tents, and there did not seem to be any intention of making it a permanent place, although the site is excellent. The country around, however, is valuable for farming purposes. The prairie in the vicinity and for a long distance west was burned.

Hughes President of Baptists.

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, May 17.—Governor Charles E. Hughes, of New York, was today elected president of the new northern Baptist convention, which was organized here to-day. This action was taken at the general meeting of the delegates to the general Baptist convention and other Baptist laymen.

THAT INTERVIEW WITH ORCHARD

Has Raised Strong Complaint From Defence in Haywood Case. Influenced Jury.

Boise, Idaho, May 17.—Judge Fremont Wood, presiding at the trial of Wm. D. Haywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, for the murder of ex-Governor Frank Steuneger, directed the prosecuting attorney of Ada county today to investigate the circumstances under which Harry Orchard, the confessed slayer of Steuneger, was interviewed for publication yesterday, and to take any legal steps that his inquiry show are warranted.

Judge Wood referred to the interview when he asked the bench this morning, and his request that his counsel would advise the court to deal with the incident led the defence to charge that Governor Gooding and the newspaper, under the influence of the defence, had sought to influence the jury by an attempt to bolster up the evidence which may be given in the trial this morning, and also suggested that Governor Gooding be cited for contempt.

Interview Arranged Weeks Ago.

The counsel for the prosecution defended Governor Gooding, and the newspapers included in the charges, and showed that the applications for an interview with Orchard were made weeks before the examination of the witness, and that the defence had been informed of the interview, and that the defence had been informed of the interview, and that the defence had been informed of the interview.

Recurrence to Be Avoided.

In speaking of the interview with Orchard, Judge Wood said that perhaps the publication was not an attempt to influence the jury, but was likely to influence the jury, and he felt that something should be done to prevent a recurrence of such a thing to prevent a jury.

James H. Hawley, for the State, expressed his regret over the publication of the interview with Orchard, and disclaimed responsibility. The court cited the utterances of Governor Gooding as to the statement that Orchard is not to have immunity for his confession. Mr. Richardson here remarked that the defence could not speak freely in the presence of the jury, so the court required all witnesses to leave the room for an hour.

Enumerates the Prosecution.

Mr. Richardson first enumerated the prosecution from all connection with the incident, and then said that for more than fifteen months Orchard had been in the penitentiary, secluded and guarded in every possible way, to prevent any communication with the outside world. Yesterday the examination of one of the jurors there was some question as to the amount of evidence that should be placed on Governor's testimony.

Governor Arranged the Interview.

Governor Gooding had the supreme charge of the penitentiary, and his appointees, Warden Whitney, had at all times been his subordinates, and agreed advisor and aid. Whitney took the Associated Press representatives and that portion of the newspaper fraternity who were reporting the case separately upon the side of the prosecution to the penitentiary yesterday to interview Orchard.

"It was patent," Mr. Richardson went on, "that this was done for the express purpose of giving Orchard credibility in the eyes of the jury and the eyes of the world, and it was a dastardly outrage upon the defence."

To Influence Case.

Mr. Darrow, who followed Mr. Richardson said: "Of course, there can be but one purpose in this kind of reception of the governor and his friend, Mr. Orchard, and that was to influence this case at this time."

stuff, which, upon its face, was manufactured—a lot of maudlin idleness. The court interrupted to send for the prosecuting attorney.

When Mr. Darrow resumed he suggested that the governor be called before the court.

Defence the Newspapers.

Hayley, of the counsel for the prosecution, defended the Boise papers and described the constant circulation throughout the country of papers in the interest of defence, damaging to the prosecution, so as to create a false impression as to the motive of the prosecution, and misstate what purported to be the evidence in the case. He said that the condition of Orchard had been absolutely misstated and mis-understood.

"It," continued Hawley, "representatives of the Associated Press have been permitted to see this man, and without conversation with except with regard to his health, have satisfied that desire which is expressed throughout the country, to know something in regard to his condition, would be unable to see how in the slightest degree would prejudice the case of the defence."

Senator Borah said that he declined to submit to the proposition that newspapers interviewed Orchard for the purpose of influencing the jury.

He said the defence could not control the newspaper's situation. He would not ask the press to publish his articles to suit the prosecution, and he was not going to undertake to control the situation. He declared that he would not believe that Governor Gooding would do anything to disqualify the counsel from getting a jury.

Governor Gooding Defended.

"What right has Governor Gooding to do with the prosecution of a certain criminal offender?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"Governor Gooding is the governor of the State," replied Senator Borah. "He believes that a crime has been committed which involves the integrity of this state; and I say if Governor Gooding had ever laid down in the face of this tragedy he would not have been in the position which he now occupies."

City Receives

A SECOND WRIT

And an Injunction is Asked for in the Extension of Water Avenue.

Messrs. McLeod, Jackson & Brown have served a writ for damages and for an injunction on the city in connection with the extension of Water avenue in Fraser's flats. This is the second writ for damages and injunction asked for in connection with this street which is being opened up and for which it is alleged an incorrect survey has been made.

H. J. Dawson waited upon the city commissioners this forenoon with reference to the proposed First street hoist of which he is one of the protesters. An agreement is being drawn up and will be presented to the council next Tuesday evening.

Mr. Wallbridge of Wallbridge & McDonald, who represented Mrs. Cad in a complaint that her property would be injured will be asked to appear and explain the grievance and to what extent, if any, the city is liable.

The market square and anticorporation protest which was handed over to the city commissioners for report next council meeting, is being considered and all available data being secured. It is probable they will recommend the selling of street privileges to the highest bidder.

Plumber Steel Man Dead.

Chicago, May 17.—Orin W. Pitter, the plumber, steel man and multi-millionaire died here today.

CORRUPTION IN SAN FRANCISCO

Ruef's Testimony Further Implicates Prominent Men. Mayor's Trial.

San Francisco, May 17.—Abraham Ruef, while before the grand jury, testified regarding the Parkside Traction Company deal, by which, according to the line of attack laid down by the prosecution, the director of the Parkside, Corporation paid to Ruef $30,000 to procure a franchise to enhance enormously the half of the lot comprising the Parkside Real Estate tract. The information in possession of the prosecution is that of this sum $18,000 was to be paid to each of the eighteen supervisors for voting the franchise, and that the remainder, $12,000, was to be shared equally between Ruef and Schmitt.

Personal of Company.

Among the directors and stockholders of the Parkside Traction Company were W. M. Crocker, one of the foremost capitalists of San Francisco; Charles E. Green, manager of the vast Crocker estate and an official in the Crocker-Woolworth bank; C. E. Umbrin and Douglas Menden, wealthy real estate men; F. W. Tillman, wholesale grocer; Wellington Green, an officer of the Crocker-Woolworth bank, and Joseph Green, capitalist, once president of the corporation. All of these men were called before the grand jury.

The fact that several of them were in the inquisitorial chamber only a minute gave rise to the report that they had refused to testify. This was not confirmed.

Schmitt's Trial Awaited.

The examination of Abraham Ruef before the grand jury was resumed today. He was further questioned as to the alleged bribery of Mayor Schmitt and the supervisors by the United Railroads Company. His testimony of yesterday that $200,000 was paid by that corporation for the purpose of electrifying the street railway system, Ruef refused to forego the information he will impart. Mr. Matsen, of his counsel, says the mayor will appear for trial in Judge Dunne's department of the Superior Court next Monday.

Ruef's Implication Postponed.

The understanding is that the carrying out of the sentence imposed upon Abraham Ruef two weeks since by Judge Dunne will be postponed in order that when he takes the stand in court against "those higher up" his testimony should not be that of a convict.

Detective Huey is authority for the statement that it is the purpose of the prosecution to send Ruef eventually to San Quentin penitentiary, but the trial of corporation officials who have been indicted and others who have not yet been formally charged will, it is thought, take so long that Ruef's incarceration will be delayed at least a year.

No move has been made for his admittance to bail. It is said that he prefers to remain in the custody of Elsie Higgs.

STRIKE VIOLENCE.

One Man Shot as Result of Row in Longshoremen's Strike.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, May 17.—A man was shot and instantly killed and another wounded in Hoboken today as a result of a row growing out of the longshoremen's strike. The dead man was Harry Marshall, a bystander. The man who fired the shot, who himself was wounded while resisting arrest, is Benjamin Vincent, 35 years old, who is said to have been employed by a detective agency. Vincent narrowly escaped trapping at the hands of a crowd of angry strikers before he was locked up.

STRATHCONA NEWS

STRATHCONA'S CITY HOSPITAL

The New Building Will be a Haudsome One. Discription of the Plans.

The plans for the new municipal hospital of Strathcona, prepared by Magoon, Hopkins & James, and accepted by the city council, are now on exhibition in the window of Hulbert & Foster's real estate office.

The new building will be a handsome one and a credit to the city.
It is to be built of red brick with stone trimmings, and the cost, it is estimated, will be about $58,000.

The main building is 100 x 38 feet, and to the rear there is an extension 100 x 28 feet. Provision has also been made for additions when required to each end of the main building with complimentary extensions. The basement contains five rooms for help, a help dining room, kitchen, padded room, three store rooms, and a laundry.

The matron's rooms, the house
surgeon's office, the secretary's office, the dispensary and the nurses' dining and reception rooms are located on the first floor and in the extension the men's general ward. This is a large room 72 x 26 feet and has accommodation for twenty beds.

The women's general ward is of the same dimensions as the second floor.
The private wards, ten in number, are also on the second floor. On the third floor are four large semi-private wards with two beds apiece. The children's ward is also on this floor and has four beds.

The nurses' quarters are in the extension. There are twelve bedrooms and two rooms, toilet, etc. The operating room is on the fourth floor and is assured good lighting by a skylight. The instrument and the anaesthetic rooms adjoin it.

There are three emergency wards, one each on the first, second and fourth floors. Ward kitchens are provided on each floor, also separate kitchens for men and women. Besides a convalescent ward there are side balconies on each floor in the rear for the use of patients.

The hospital will front Anderson avenue in block 120, and the mortuary will be placed on the southeast corner of the lot, corner of Boulevard and Walter streets. The estimated cost of the building is $58,000.

NO QUORUM PRESENT.

There was not a quorum present at the Strathcona council meeting called for last night. The only members of the board present were the Mayor and Ald. Crawford and Elliott. After waiting till the time limit of 8.30 the roll was called and the meeting declared off.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES.

Rev. Mr. Bowen, late of Dauphin, Man., the new pastor of the Strathcona Baptist church, arrived in the city yesterday and visited a number of his future congregation. Rev. Mr.
Bowen will begin his pastorate tomorrow.

POSTMASTER BLAIN RESIGNS.

James Blain, postmaster of Strathcona has tendered his resignation of that office to the post office department. He will continue until July 1st.
Mr. Blain's successor has not yet been appointed but the name of Geo.
Thompson is mentioned as a probability. If the department decides to retain the present premises the building will be remodelled as soon as the fixtures ordered by Mr. Blain arrive.

LOCALS.

The Strathcona baseball team have completed arrangements for a game in Watskewin on Wednesday, May 22nd.

A mass meeting of citizens of Strathcona will be held in the council chamber Monday, May 27th, to discuss the money bill to be voted upon on May 29th.

Tenders have been called for the erection of the board of trade office on Monday, May 27th, to discuss the money bill to be voted upon on May 29th.

W. H. Martin & Co. are engaged on plans for a three store addition to the Inglewood hotel.

Ed. White, who has been ill for some months of typhoid fever, is now on the road to recovery.

Rev. Mr. Kerr will preach in the Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and Rev. Dr. McDonald tomorrow evening.

Mr. J. A. Marion, Palmerston, Ont., is visiting his brother, Dr. Don Marion.

A. L. Marks, of the teaching staff of the Duggan street school, entertained his pupils to a trip to White Mud river this forenoon.

Considerable changes are in progress at the fire hall. The building between the main hall and the hose tower is to be moved out to the front east of the hall. It will be converted into a police station and the cells will be removed to it. In the front there will be a small office for the chief of police. An extension to the hall will be built to provide stabling for four horses. The doors will have an electrical attachment to enable them to fly open and allow the horses to come to their places in approved fire-hill style. Upstairs in the hall a bath room will be fitted up for the use of the firemen. The contract for the work has been let to Wm. Durrant at $1,240.

Calgary.

Wm. H. Daucy, a well known contractor here, and a veteran of the 1866 rebellion, is dead. Mr. Daucy was born in Newfoundland 40 years ago.

J. J. Curry, a real estate man, has been prosecuted by D. Leach, C.E., for not turning over some money to him in a real estate deal.

Twenty-one miles of cement sidewalks are to be laid in this city year.

It is expected that work will be started on the new city hall in about six weeks.

The Alberta Steam Laundry is erecting a new building on the corner of Third avenue and Third street west.

Dr. Stewart Mackie, who during the past year has been attending the hospitals in Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London, left for home on the 17th inst.

A pair of lots in block 50, section 16, were sold yesterday afternoon to a prominent American investor from North Dakota. The price obtained was better than any price yet given in the western portion of the city.

COMFORT IN THE HOME.

Have you ever remarked the air of downright comfort that pervails the sitting-rooms of a good club for men? In all substantial tables and book-cases; in the comfortable couches made for use not ornament, there are a score of approaches to the tendency of many women to crowd things and trivial inharmonious things at that into the smaller rooms of her house.

The Too-Orderly D-dy.

When added to the presence of superfluous knick-knacks in a home, a housekeeper—one could not call her a home-maker—adds the mania for keeping everything always set and "orderly" the consequence is downright discomfort. There is a wide gulf between the woman whose home is orderly and comfortable, and the one whose home is too orderly and pretty and precise.

The discomforts of the latter have been amusingly voiced by a well-known New York writer recently. A well-known man who exists in such a home is supposed to be talking.

"One Nice, Home-like Dirty Spot."

And he says, in part: "That's where my tale of woe comes in. My house is too immaculate to be used, and I've done a million miles walking staid in it, circling round and round trying to find some one nice, home-like, unimpaired dirty spot in which I could flop down, stretch out my legs, drop cigar ashes on the floor, open out my newspaper, and be at peace."

"Vain hope! Fallacious dream! Unrewarded research! There's no such place. We are spick and span from cellar to garret—and as miserable as a small boy in dress-up Sunday clothes."

Send Slave of Order.

"And that's the way I live. I exist in terror of dropping something, or breaking something, or upsetting something. I'm the bond slave of order. The poor, helpless prisoner of neatness. The writhing victim on the rack being slowly tortured to death by tidiness."

"My wife's got mysterious places—hidden, secret, recalcitrant—where she keeps my papers, and magazines the minute I lay them down, and I've spent the most of the time since I've been married trying to run down clues as to the whereabouts of the morning paper or the magazine I brought home the night before."

Bureau Commandeered.

"Now, I never had any trouble finding my clothes before I was married. I dumped my haberdashery into a drawer, and when I wanted a collar, or a tie, or shirt, I just went to it and stirred things round and round until the desired article came to the surface. It was dead easy, and a cinch for finding things."

"How is it now? I haven't any bureau. I haven't any drawer to put things in, nor anything to put in one."

If I had it. My wife has taken my things and hidden them where a Sherlock Holmes couldn't find them. Peace Gave From His Pipe.
"As for smoking or drinking, what with having a woman with a persistent expression pick up matches after me, or a housewife female watching to see that I didn't ruin a table by setting a wet glass upon it, I've no pleasure left in either, nor in my home."

"What I look for is a place where I can throw things about, that is nice and merry and untidy, and where the smell of soap and the sight of a broom have never penetrated."

"Maybe I've got tired of being comfortable and dirty after awhile, but I don't know. Anyway, it would be a change, and you take it from me that an over- neat woman is just about as provoking to live with as a pore."

PETTING THE BOYS.

He—"Yes, I go into training tomorrow. I have to strike 'em for the big race."

She—"Strike them? What on earth do you mean, Jack?"

He—"Why, strike 'em, of course! The boys won't run a decent race unless they're circularly struck!"

She—"How ridiculous. What great babies they must be."

TOO MUCH TO EXPECT.

"You must get up and investigate, John," she repeated. "I heard that noise again, and I'm convinced it's a burglar!"
"Fish!" he grunted sleepily. "You don't expect me to have the courage of your convictions, do you?"

RIVER HEIGHTS

RIVER HEIGHTS

The beautiful residential sub-division of River Heights is now being offered for sale for the first time at prices and terms which bring home cities within the reach of all.

River Heights takes in the south-westerly 20 acres of river lot 21, within the city limits of Strathcona, and 50 acres of river lot 21, adjoining the boundary line of the city, a acre with the Alberta hotel for a centre and a radius of one mile cuts the property in the middle.

The inauguration of a street car service will bring all this property within ten minutes' ride of the busiest part of either city. The property which Premier Rutherford recently gave Strathcona for a park is right at the south end of the River Heights sub-division.

As a homestead nothing better has ever been offered. The prices are not inflated. They are placed low for quick sale, but only a limited number of lots are to be sold and these are to be placed, as far as possible in the hands of actual home builders.

Municipal improvements, such as water works, light, sidewalks, etc., will all be forthcoming within a year or so on account of this fact that home building is to be encouraged. The lots which are not sold on the first sale will be kept off the market until these improvements are secured and the owners will do everything in their power, by way of a willingness to bear a fair share of the rates involved, to see that these improvements are secured at once.

This is not an "out on the prairie" proposition. It is right in town. If you care to see the property come to the office and take a look at it with us. It will only take a few minutes of your time and may make you hundreds of dollars.

There are 11 view lots in R.L. 19 to be sold. These lots are 50 x 100. They overlook the City of Edmonton, the parliament buildings, and have a clear view of five miles of the valley of the Saskatchewan River. No four lots were ever offered at any price. These eleven are going at $1,000 each, one-third cash, balance 6 and 12 at 7 per cent.

In block 2 of R.L. 19 there are a limited number of lots to be sold at from $300 to $500, terms the same.

In blocks 4, 5, 6 and 7 the lots that are being offered will go at $250 for inside lots and $275 for corner lots. Size of lots, 50 x 150 feet to a 20 foot lane.

In subdivision of R.L. 19 there are from $125.00 to $150.00 for inside lots and $200.00 extra for corners; size of lots, 12 chains by 2 chains.

There are 11 View Lots in R.L. 19 which will go at $1,000 each, one-third cash, six and twelve months, seven per cent. interest.

Now Offered For The First Time

A beautiful Residential Sub-Division within the City Limits of Strathcona and less than one mile from the Edmonton Post Office.

RIVER VIEW LOTS UNEQUALLED IN THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA.

Choice homesteads easy of access to either city. The construction of the Street Railway will bring them within 15 minutes of the business centres.

Beautiful View Lots $1000 each

THE LIFE STORY OF IAN MACLAREN

His Place in Scottish Literature. The Last of Brilliant Edinburgh Quartette.

Rev. Dr. John Watson, better known by his pen name of Ian MacLaren, whose death occurred in Iowa last week when on a visit, was one of the few men whose lives have furnished examples of the possibility of springing from comparative obscurity into wide distinction at a bound.

In 1864, before the first of his series of sketches of Scottish life appeared, he was simply a popular and successful English preacher whose influence did not extend far beyond the limits of the Liverpool parish in which he worked then lay. A year after he had entered the house of his father, the sales of his first work had exceeded 2,000,000 copies in England and on this continent. This work, "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," is still as popular as ever, and has been followed by others which, taken altogether, have won for their author an enviable reputation wherever the English language is spoken.

Dr. Watson came naturally enough by the Scottish dialect in which the characters in his stories expressed themselves, for he was himself of pure Scottish blood, and devoted years of his work as a pastor to the lives and interests of the very people of whom he wrote. He was born in England at Manningtree, Essex county, where his father was employed in the inland revenue department. The family went to London soon after Ian MacLaren's birth, but did not remain there long. The father, although an officer of excise, was an intensely devout Free Kirk elder, and his mother was a woman remarkable for her religious strength and courageous religious character. The boy, an only child, grew up under powerful spiritual influences. He received his early education at the Stirling grammar school and afterwards went to Edinburgh, where he took the degree of M.A., and later attended courses at Lubeck, Germany. He soon acquired a taste for philosophy and became president of the philosophical society at Edinburgh university. When he finished his studies he decided to become a Free Kirk minister, and thus gratified the strong desire of his father. The illustrious Henry Drummond, and such celebrated divines as Dr. James Stalker, Dr. Geo. Adam Smith and Rev. D. M. Ross of Dundee were his fellow students at New college, Edinburgh. In 1874 he was licensed by the Edinburgh Presbytery and appointed assistant to Rev. Dr. Wilson of Barclay church. He was ordained in 1875, and for a year he held the pastorate of the Free church of St. Matthew, Glasgow. In 1886 he became Lyman Beecher lecturer at Yale, where he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1890 he was elected moderator of the Synod of the Presbyterian church of England.

Literary Awakening in First Pastorate. It was his first pastorate that awoke his literary instincts, the small, hardy, and "canny" congregation at Loggisholm, in Perthshire, where picturesque and sturdy character was to make famous twenty years later. This was the Drumbrich of "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush."

In the little Scottish village itself he first conceived the idea of the stories of Highland peasant life in which Drumbrich, Domie, Peter Bruce and Dr. Wm. MacLaren figured. The actors in the stories were modelled upon the farmers of Loggisholm, and their virtues. The work which was to bring Dr. Watson renown was postulated by the call to St. Matthew's parish of Glasgow, to which reference has already been made. His brilliant career as a preacher and the colleague of Dr. Samuel Muller won him the call to Septon Park Presbyterian church in Liverpool, where he remained until his first visit to America in 1896. By that time he had demonstrated the right to be included in the brilliant galaxy of Edinburgh university men who, regaled in the latter years of the nineteenth century, the literary glory that a hale old Edinburgh in the beginning of that century. The works of Robert Louis Stevenson, J. M. Barrie, S. R. Crockett and Ian MacLaren are known wherever the English language is spoken.

The Poetry of Scottish Life. Ian MacLaren was the latest born, in a literary sense, of this brilliant quartette. "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" revealed the existence of another Scotswoman gifted with the power of portraying the poetry of Scottish life. The influence that developed his literary faculties may be traced to his boyhood days, before he thought of the ministry and before he entered the university. When John Watson was but four years old his parents recessed the border and made their home in Perth. His school and college days were spent at Gormack Graigs and other hospitable farms, where the quick, sprightly lad, with his endless drolleries of speech was eagerly welcomed by bachelor uncles and maiden aunts. The keen interest he took in his new life opened up to him in his sketches of Barnabas and Drumbrich, the most realistic and most vivid that have ever been penned of farm life in central Scotland. "A Lad o' Pairts" is one of the finest studies that have been presented of the personal heroisms of university life in Scotland. It is well known that the Scottish farm folk, with their passion for education, their eagerness to see their children get on, will willingly pinch themselves to send their clever land to college. Eager for intellectual distinction and the rewards which that distinction will bring—rewards that he will fight for with reckless disregard of his bodily health. In order to repay the sacrifices made in his humble home—the student will sometimes work himself to death. Thus we see George Howe pouring over his class-books far into the hours of the night, and after paining distinction which tortures his native parish with a glow of pride, his career ends in the pathetic picture of a scholar's funeral, which few can read without their emotions being stirred to the utmost depths.

An Observer While at the University. Mr. Watson in his university years had cultivated the grace of detachment. He was in his own self, restrained way, a player in the game, but he was more of a spectator interested in the rich variety of human life displayed among his fellows. Many a Scottish student in his devotion to the classroom and its distinction, misses the broader culture which is to be won from the social life and literary atmosphere of the university. John Watson was not one of their number. He won from the university the intellectual standards, the widest horizons, and the lifelong friendships which are among the chief gains of the academic years.

A few extracts from the sketches in "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" reveal the tender touch, the deep sympathy and the penetration of Ian MacLaren.

A Picture From "The Lad o' Pairts." Here, from "The Lad o' Pairts," is the tender touch, the deep sympathy and the penetration of Ian MacLaren. The night before the end, George was carried out to his corner, and Domie, whose heart was high with the breaking, sat with him the afternoon. They used to fight the College, but now again, with their favorite classics beside them, but this time none of them spoke of books. Margie was moving about the garden, and she told me that George looked at Domie, wistfully, as if he had something to say and knew not how to do it.

After awhile, he took a book from below his pillow, and began, like one thinking over his words.

"Master Jamieson, ye ha' been a good friend ta me, the best I ever had to say and know not how to do it. Will ye tak this book for a keepsake o' yer grateful scholar? It's a Latin 'Imitation,' Domie, and it's bonnie printin'. Ye mind how ye gave me yer an Vergil, and said he was a kind o' Roman saint. No here is my own, and dir ye ken? I've often thought Vergil say He day after day and was glad. Will ye read it, Domie, for my sake, and maybe ye'll come to see—"

But Domie understood. "No lad, no lad, no lad, I'll read it till I die, and George, I'll tell ye what I've said ta me in ken. When I was your vera age I had a cruel trial, and me heart was turned frae Latin. The classics ha' been my life, though I said naething to any man against Christ. He ha' come to me in this garden. Laddie, ye ha' done far mair for me than I ever did fur ye. Will ye make a prayer for ye and domie before we part?"

There was a thrush singing in the bushes and a sound of bees in the air, when George prayed in a low, soft voice, with a little break in it.

"Lord Jesus, remember my dear master, for he's been a kind friend to me and many a pair liddle in Drumbrich. Bless ye for yer heart and give him light at eventide, and may the anster and his scholars meet some mornin' afore the school never shins, in the kingdom o' our Father."

The Speech They Speak in Drumbrich.

Of the sense of moderation in language that prevailed in Drumbrich there is an admirable illustration in the sketch, entitled "The Cumulative Speech of Drumbrich." Speech in the glen, distilled slowly, drop by drop, and the faces of the men were carved in stone. Visitors without discernment used to pity the dullness of the folk and lay themselves out for missionary work. Before the month was over, they spoke bitterly of the simple folk as if the latter had left with a grudge in their heart.

The habit of speech is described thus:

Had any native used "unpleasant" there would have been an uneasy feeling in the glen; the man must be suffering from wind in the head, and might expect the rotation of crops, saving his young grass after potatoes, a replacing turnip with beetroots, but nothing if that sort happened in any time; we kept ourselves well in hand. It rained in thistles elsewhere, with us it only "threatened to be weel"—no provision had to be made for the deluge. Strangers in the midst of health, described themselves as "fit for anything," but Hillecks, who died at 92, and never had an illness, did not venture in the prime, beyond "Glasie's" about, "a' thanks" to say, "gains" about.

When one was seriously ill he was said to be "gy an' wae," and no one died in Drumbrich—"he slipped away."

And in Heaven were no doubt, in private life we speak of the "17 place" and our lang hame." When the corn sprouted in the stocks one late wet harvest, and Domie lost half his capital, he only said, "It's no jistness," and no congratulations on a good harvest ever extracted more from Drumbrich than "A' daurna complain."

Drumbrich might be led beyond bounds in reviewing a certain potato transaction; but, as a rule, he was a master of measured speech. After the privilege of much intercourse with that exalted man, I was able to draw up his scale of equivalents for the three degrees of wickedness. When there was just a suspicion of trickiness—neglecting the piling between your cattle and your neighbor's clover fields—He's no just the man for an alder. If it degenerated into a full-blown "greasy" horse an hour before selling—He wad be the better o' another dip. And in the case of downright fraud—finding out what a man had offered for his farm and taking it over his head—the offender was "an ill gaitit wader." The two latter phrases were dark with theology, and even the positive degree of condemnation had an ecclesiastical flavor.

Lauchlin Campbell's Transformation. "The Transformation of Lauchlin Campbell," which is the pivot around which the action in the play "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" revolves, is a perfect study of great power. The portrayal of a poor Celt, who regarded himself as the embodiment of passion, devoid of morals and character, as well as the theology of the pulpit brought by the bitter shame that fell upon him through his daughter, to humility, one of the building up, thereafter of a character of sweetness and beauty in which kindness and charity were

"CANADA AGAIN" INCESSANT CRY

How our English Correspondent Views the Emigration From Great Britain.

Now that the rush of immigration is on, bringing occasional private seamen to us from the long trails from the south, and almost daily caravans of British settlers, it is of interest to know something of the conditions across the water.

An excellent idea of this is afforded by our London correspondent, who says:

To visit Liverpool almost any day in the week and saunter down to the docks is to realize that we are at the height of the Canadian emigration season. It is a thrilling sight to see these huge liners filling with fine, young Englishmen, and, amid all the pain of farewell and to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne," passing slowly down the Mersey to a land where new hope awaits those for whom English conditions make no provision. In fact, the need goes no further than Charing Cross to realize how strongly the current has turned Canada-wards. The windows of the Canadian government emigration offices have been attractively refashioned. In one window is depicted a standard train on the Grand Trunk system, and by an ingenious distribution of electric light the train is shown at night to be in full flight, crossing an open country. In the other window is a large sized model of a Canadian homestead and watermill, and here again most effective use is made of the electric light to show that night though it be, the mill is at full work. I passed by these windows late last night, and it was entertaining to hear the astonished comments of the passer-by. "Canada again," said one; "why it's nothing but Canada nowadays." And this, indeed, is very near the literal truth. They tell me at the Canadian Pacific railway head office at Trafalgar square that they are booking from 120 to 150 people to Canada every day over this one Canadian counter, and to judge from these I saw yesterday they are of an excellent type.

The Exodus of the Young. This week takes back to Canada three of the government farmer scholars who have been touring the agricultural districts spreading Canada's fame as a home for British settlers. I have seen a letter that one of these delegates, Mr. Bruce Sharp, sent to Mr. Rice Walker, the Canadian assistant superintendent of emigration, and I know from other inquiries that his success is only type. "We expect a busy time here next week," he writes from an Oxfordshire farming centre. "I expect my five brothers and families will go out. A cousin of mine and his wife and family of my brother who came out to me last fall have today for Strathcona, so we expect to have quite a Sheppard outfit. If they all go out we shall be over 70 in number." He also notes a little group going together from Axminster, in Devonshire, and another little group of father, sons, under and cousins from Winchester. There is no better form of emigration than this. These little English communities carry with them associations of the old land which form the most potent security for British emigration. A friend of mine has been spending a week in a Gloucestershire village. He himself comes of good old English farming stock. He is, moreover, among those who believe that under a reformed social system, agricultural England would once again smile as peacefully as ever it did, and his remarks to me was: "I cannot quite say I enjoyed myself; it is heart-breaking to see the finest young fellows in your own village—the clean-shaven young Englishmen you have known from babyhood and who should be the very bulwark of English agriculture in the next generation, filling off one after another to a distant colony like Canada. I suppose it is all right for the empire, but it is bad, bad business for England; at least, that is my view." I mentioned this circumstance to a London business man, and this was his rejoinder: "It is not the English village alone that is suffering. Why, I myself can't keep an office boy. I get them, fine young fellows of 15, 16 and 17 years of age, begin to get them accustomed to the ways of business life, when somehow or other they get tired of all this talk about Canada, and away they go. One of them left about six months ago for Mooseman, and now upon his letters another is off, and I fully expect that when his place is filled yet a third will follow." This is of course quite the Canadian point of view, but it is well to put it on record in Canadian emigration.

The Englishman in Canada. The recent discussion in the Montreal Star on the subject of the Canadian attitude towards the Englishman in Canada has an interesting reflex in the Canadian Gazette, an English visitor, Mr. D. Dainow by name, hits the nail on the head when he tells intending settlers that they make a tremendous mistake when on reaching Canada they continually talk of England instead of trying their utmost to get used to things Canadian and understand Canadian life; and see how superior for the ordinary worker and laborer it really is.

"I have," he goes on to say, "seen Englishmen, three weeks in the country, 'damning and cursing' Canada because they could find no work. On the other hand I have seen industrious, hardworking Jews who have fled from the Russian persecutions prospering and thanking God for the freedom of this vast and beautiful continent." He admits that he has met with much the same prejudice against the Englishman in the United States, and the moral he draws is that the Englishman who crosses the Atlantic to improve his lot should better make up his mind to settle down in the country of his adoption and become a faithful and loyal citizen, than to go on his life-long journey advantage by staying where he is.

Colonel Gibson. The selection of Col. the Hon. J. L. Gibson as commandant of the Canadian Biley team of 1907 has been popular among all who follow the doings of Canadian riflemen. We know what excellent work Col. Gibson has done in popularizing and improving Canadian marksmanship, and it is not forgotten how admirable a commander he made of one of the Wimbledon teams of twenty years ago. It is fitting that the Canadian team should have at its head in this year of years a Canadian who is able to do full justice to the occasion.

SOUTHERN ALBERTA.

Preparations are being actively made for the big run-up for the sale of Southern Alberta, which takes place on May 28th at Eight-Mile Lake. $75 were added in April to Medicine Hat revenue from real estate licenses.

The recent anniversary celebration at Lethbridge county at Lethbridge have now reached a depth of over 300 feet. They are at present in a soapstone stratum. Mr. L. Lonsdale Doupe, head of the townships department of the C. P. R., and Mr. J. Callaghan, of the engineering staff of the same company, passed through town on route, to Battleford. Mr. G. Wilson, formerly a machinist at the C. N. R. round house, has been promoted to the mechanical foremanship in the place of Mr. J. Unsworth, who has gone to his home.

Engineer C. H. Mitchell is seeking a suitable site to locate a power house on the banks of the Saskatchewan. SASKATOON. Mr. Frank C. Sewell, of the British Columbia General Contract company, who has a force of men working out east of here on the C. P. R. grade, was in town recently. Two cars of steel for the traffic bridge have arrived in the city from the Canadian Bridge company, Walkerville. Fishing at this point along the Great Saskatchewan has begun, and the citizens are deriving much recreation from this sport. Mr. Jas. H. Ritchie, C.N.R. engineer of the city, has been appointed to the Engineers' Conference to be held at an early date in Quebec city.

REGINA. A big cut will have to be made in the city estimates because of the city prices exceeding the borrowing powers which for this year means $200,000 or 20 per cent. of last year's assessment. There will be such a large amount of sand and gravel used in Regina this summer that the Canadian Northern railway people are thinking of running a siding from Lumsden to the gravel pits to haul gravel to Regina. Four hundred and eight homestead entries were made at the Battleford Lands office last month.

manufactured especially for the heating of large halls and public edifices, is designed to thoroughly warm the greatest amount of cold air in the least possible time. Entering the flues, as shown in the accompanying cross-section of the fire pot, the cold air is taken up through this heated column which overhangs the fire, as illustrated, thus coming in direct contact with all products of combustion, and insuring a very rapid circulation. This warmed air ascending straight through the flues in which it started, can be carried direct, with practically all its heat retained, to the furthest and coldest part of the building.

Gourlay Pianos

If Your Boy or Girl Plays an Instrument

Is there any more delightful way of adding to the pleasure of life in the home than by accompanying your child on a piano that assists the performer in producing the sweetest melodies and the most ravishing harmonies? But to get the best you must have the best piano in the world.

Gourlay Pianos

Are unequalled in responsiveness to the touch and possess a tone of the utmost melodiousness, pure, rich and capable of expressing every shade of feeling. A "Gourlay" is indispensable in every home that pretends to musical culture.

High Priced but Worth the Price

Means something when applied to Gourlay Pianos, because they are the chief exponent in Canada of fine art in piano building. No more serviceable and dependable pianos are made anywhere in the world.

Tell us your needs by mail and we'll do the rest to your fullest satisfaction. We ship our "Gourlays" anywhere in Canada on approval.

TO THE GULF OF MEXICO BY WATER

Two Men Will Leave Edmonton by Rowboat Early in June on This Trip.

By rowboat from Edmonton to the Gulf of Mexico—through the magnificent chain of Canadian waterways down through the Missouri a distance of 3,500 miles—is the adventurous and interesting trip about to be undertaken by two young men now in Edmonton.

The Men Who Will Go. Robert Hoerhagen, one of the venturesome duo, has been in Edmonton four months, and in the States two and a half years, coming previously from Germany. His companion, G. W. Sparks, came to Edmonton a month ago, and together they have planned this interesting trip.

Their rowboat is a trim clinker-built skiff of sixteen feet, with a four-foot beam, made by Mr. Walter, of Strathcona.

Down the Great Waterways. They propose to leave Edmonton early in June, following the Saskatchewan down its many windings and past its rapids until eventually their small craft comes out upon the broad waters of Lake Winnipeg.

Proceeding in a southeasterly direction, the travellers will touch at the island upon which the Icelandic settlement is located, and will remain there long enough to study the people and their ways.

Over to the Mississippi. Southward then to the Red River the young men will take their course, mounting that river to its source. Within a few miles of this point a stiff portage will have to be made across to the Mississippi.

Out to the Gulf. Then down this historic river the rowboat and its occupants will proceed in direct route, until some fine day six months' hence the two will look out, like twentieth century Pirates, upon the magnificent body of water which they aim to reach.

Object of Voyage. The object of this Viking-like trip of young Hoerhagen and his southern companion is to obtain a thorough knowledge of the great waterways of the North American continent—the settlements, and resources along these rivers.

Photographers will be taken by the travellers all along the route and articles will be contributed to old world and American papers.

CITY MARKETS. Business on the market is quiet these days. The farmers are busy with their seeding and only moderate supplies are coming forward. Prices for hay are firmer than last week.

Slough hay varies from $14 to $16, upland $17 to $20, timothy $22 to $25.

Oats are firm at prices from 20 to 33 cents. Potatoes are scarce at 40 to 50 cents.

Produce Eggs are firm at 30c. Butter continues about 25c. to 30c. Potatoes, 25c. to 40c. per bushel.

Live stock and poultry: Beef, 4 to 4.12 per lb.; lamb, 6 cents a lb.; veal, 5c. to 6c. per lb.; mutton, 6c. per lb.; pork, 6 to 6.5c. per lb.

WILL CELEBRATE ACT OF UNION A meeting of the St. Andrew's society will be held on Monday evening in the council chamber at eight o'clock to arrange for the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the union of Scotland and England. All members are requested to attend.

YESTERDAY'S NEWCOMERS. Between 70 and 80 new settlers registered at the immigration offices yesterday. They included 13 direct from England, 7 from Scotland, 7 from Ireland, 4 from Belgium, 3 from Germany, 4 from Norway, 3 from Newfoundland, and 2 from the United States.

CANADIAN CLUB LUNCHEON. Hon. Frank Oliver will be the speaker at the Canadian Club luncheon which takes place on Monday at 1 o'clock in the Queens Hotel.

As the accommodation is limited, members can secure their tickets at the Queens Hotel in advance of the luncheon. The tickets, which are now on sale, will be at the same price as heretofore.

CANADIAN CLUB. The regular fortnightly luncheons of the club having ended on the 30th of April, luncheons will be held during the summer season, at intervals, for the purpose of enabling members to meet and entertain any distinguished visitors to Edmonton. The first of these will be held on Monday next at the Queens hotel, at the usual hour one o'clock, when the club will have as the guest of honor, the Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the interior, who will deliver a short address. In order to prevent any confusion the committee have decided to limit the number of tickets to correspond with the accommodation of the dining room, which will hold about one hundred and twenty-five guests. The tickets may be had at the Queens hotel at the usual price for these luncheons. It is probable that the tickets will all be taken up today.

CAUSE OF FREQUENT RUNAWAYS The many runaways that take place on Edmonton streets have been the cause of considerable discussion. Though no fatal or serious accidents have occurred as yet there is always constant danger from the uncontrolled steeds that almost daily dash through the city streets.

When the mayor was asked this morning if he could offer any explanation of the fact that Edmonton has more frequent accidents of this kind than are usual in other cities he humorously offered a solution that was caused by the Edmonton district oats, "the best in the world," and the fact that the city teamsters give particular care to the horses.

There is, however, probably a deeper explanation beneath the question and that is the too lax enforcement of the bylaw prohibiting horses being allowed to stand on the streets in securely fastened. Many of the recent runaways are attributed to this cause and as a result the police are taking more drastic steps to prosecute all who carelessly leave their horses unattended on public thoroughfares.

WESTERN ENTERPRISE.

Probably few realize what an expensive undertaking it will be to produce the appearance of Minnie Madern Fiske and her New York company in this city on the evening of July 1st. The last date of the great actress just previous to her Edmonton appearance will be Seattle, and to arrive here for the 2nd it will be necessary to engage a special train from Seattle to Vancouver Junction. This adds materially to the tremendous expense attached to the undertaking as can be well understood. F. G. Spencer the concert promoter of St. John, New Brunswick, who has toured of Nordic and Alaskan through the west is associated with E. Willis in the Fiske tour, and the arrangements now well under way easily indicate that it will be the most successful undertaking of its kind, that the west has yet seen.

Mrs. Fiske and company will travel on the Fiske private car one of the most elaborately fitted out on the continent, and an entire car is necessary to carry the special scenery used in the presentation of "The New York Idea" New York's biggest success this season.

Every resident of Edmonton should see the date of Fiske's appearance inscribed indelibly in their memory, and that is particularly easy as July 1st is the day.

WITH THE EDMONTON BRANCH OF THE W.O.U.

The local Women's Christian Temperance Union is to be honored by a visit from Mrs. Hishop, the provincial organizer, on Thursday and Friday, May 23rd and 24th. A children's gathering will be held on Thursday afternoon, and a public meeting in the evening, each of which will be addressed by Mrs. Hishop. On Friday afternoon a parlor meeting will take place at the home of one of the members. Full arrangements will be announced later.

Among the ancient Greeks, one of the most highly valued parts of an education was to learn the art of conversation. Today we have lost this emphasis. It is true, we with our magazines, our newspapers, our really acquired books, do not need this art as the Greeks needed it. But are we going to the other extreme, and failing to appreciate conversation? Did you ever think how simple and convenient an opportunity we had of giving pleasure by our conversation, telling the things we know others would like to hear, listening then like of news, and of thought which we know they would enjoy, and taking pains to tell these things carefully, that they may be as enjoyable as possible?

Expression is a natural gift of some people. With others, it is hard to acquire. But there is one secret that if once learned, will seldom fail to make our conversation interesting. That secret is sympathy. Do not bring to the people around you just the items that give you pleasure, and then be surprised that you do not meet response in your conversation. Keep the "I" out. Study the tastes and interests of the people you are thrown among, and bring to them items that will accord with their interests. You will be surprised at the eagerness with which your conversation will be welcomed.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

The Civic Improvement Society held a meeting last night in the city council chamber. Mr. J. B. Walker was in the chair and Mr. A. G. Harrison acted as secretary. The officers elected were:

President—Col. E. B. Edwards; Walter Ramsay; secretary, treasurer, G. W. Massey.

Executive committee of five—Messrs A. E. Potter, Bennett, Forsell, A. Mitchell and Geo. Harcourt, deputy minister of agriculture.

The membership fee of the society was fixed at $1 per annum for gentlemen, ladies being admitted free of charge.

A splendid address was given by Mr. A. Mitchell, forester and chief warden inspector of the province, on the best methods of tree planting and the varieties suitable to Edmonton.

Mr. Mitchell's address was highly instructed and some desire was expressed to have it published and distributed in pamphlet form.

Robert Eaton, proprietor of the Clover Bar Nurseries, submitted a special price list at which he offers his trees, etc., to the members of the society.

Walter Ramsay, proprietor of the Ramsay greenhouses, gave a brief but interesting address on flowers, and A. E. Potter of the wholesale seed firm of Potter & McDougall, spoke briefly on flower seeds.

After some discussion as to a name, it was decided to call the organization the Civic Improvement Society.

GREAT COUNTRY
AROUND TOFIELDJohn Rae Returns From There.
Farmers are Busy. Need of Hotel Accommodation

John Rae, provincial license inspector for the district between Edmonton and Lloydminster, has returned from a trip of inspection of the hotels in the district under his jurisdiction in the towns along the C.N.R. Mr. Rae drove from Chipman to Tofield, a distance of 80 miles. There is no hotel in Tofield, but the department has received an application for a license for a hotel which is to be established there. Mr. Rae's official business in Tofield was to ascertain if hotel accommodation was required. The night he spent in the village he slept in a room over a restaurant, with five other travellers. He will report in favor of granting the license.

Tofield is a Fine Town.
"It was my first trip up the country between Chipman and Tofield," said Mr. Rae to a Bulletin representative, "and I may tell you it is a fine country. At present the farmers are working early and late seedling, and from what I could learn along the road they do not anticipate that their crops will be materially curtailed as a result of the late seedling. Tofield is at present in an unsettled condition. The residents of the village are removing from the original town site to a new town site half a mile south. When the G.T.P. which will run through the village, is built, the villagers will again put up stakes, for the G.T.P. town site is half a mile south of the new town site, and the village is beautifully situated within easy access of Beaver lake, a body of water fifteen miles long by eight miles wide.

Gallians Industries.
Mr. Rae also visited Wootok and Andrew, two villages north of the C.N.R. from Lamont. Wootok is in the centre of a Gallian settlement. He says the industry of these people is surprising. They have built for themselves thatched houses, which are kept scrupulously clean despite the large families occupying them. Their industry, too, is noteworthy. There are no droves among them. Their farms are the equal of the best along the line of the C.N.R."

The Big Rip.
"Is there any dissatisfaction in reference to the service on the C.N.R.?" Mr. Rae was asked.
"The great complaint is the lack of stations and station agents. There are no stations at Lamont, Ranfurly and Lavoie, and while there is a station building at Bruderheim, there is no agent. These stations, all of them important, are without stations or agents, and it makes it impossible for travellers to tell when the trains will arrive. The only way in which a traveller can be sure of catching his train is to be at the regular stopping place, at this time the train is to arrive, and this may mean a wait of some hours."

"What is the feeling in Lloydminster in reference to the town being placed all in either Alberta or Saskatchewan?"
"The feeling is that it should not be in either one or the other province, and not half in Alberta and half in Saskatchewan, as at present. From what I could gather the majority of the townspeople favor Alberta."

It has been hinted that Bruderheim is to be a divisional point. A turntable has arrived and is side-tracked at the point apparently awaiting developments.

200,000 INCANDESCENT
LIGHTS IN USE IN THE CITY

Edmonton's Lighting Plant, Municipally Owned, one of the Most Modern on the Continent. Rates the Lowest in the West, and Plant is Making Money.

There is perhaps no public utility in Canada that has so much developed in the various municipalities of the eastern as well as the western provinces of the Dominion than the street and house lighting question as it has been presented to every growing village and town.

There are those who maintain that private ownership of electric lighting plants is conducive of better results than municipal ownership, but their opinion is few in the west and perhaps less in the city of Edmonton than in any other of the progressive municipalities of the prairie.

Plant a Success in Edmonton.

For Edmonton has been particularly successful in its municipal lighting plant. Good administration and careful management has brought the city plant to a high state of efficiency for present requirements.

As a proof of the success that has attended civic control, Edmonton today has a large number of patrons of electric power in the form of incandescent lights than any other city in the Dominion. For instance, which is a creditable one alike to the progressiveness of the people and to the department in charge of that portion of the city's affairs, there is no less an authority than the Canadian Electric Review of a recent date.

200,000 INCANDESCENTS IN USE.

At the present time there are upwards of two hundred thousand incandescent lamps in use in the capital city and the number is ever on the increase. Almost daily new applications are coming in to the city office and the men of the department have their hands full in making house office and store connections.

The rates to consumers of electric power are much lower than exist in most western cities. The cheap prices which prevail in Edmonton have interested other cities of the west and City Electrician Ormsby is in receipt of frequent communications asking for particulars of the Edmonton plant. These are frequently accompanied by commendatory remarks of the local plant, and the lower prices for electric power that prevail in the city.

The Demand for Electric Power.

The demand for electric power for dynamo use in the city is increasing rapidly. In December last the meters installed in Edmonton represented about 110 horse power while at the present time there is about 225 in use. Additional ones are being installed each week. Among the large concerns that will shortly use electric power in this plant is the new mill way to be constructed this summer at the hill on First street.

Street Lighting.

The street lighting system is a modern one and is pronounced to be one of the most up to date in the Dominion. The system now in use is the constant series arc, as manufactured by the Westinghouse Co. There are at present seventy-five street arc lights in use while outlining but rapidly growing sections of the city will shortly demand a much more extensive service.

But Edgely Growing Too Fast.

But Edgely is growing rapidly and all the resources of the municipal authorities will be required to keep pace with the ever-increasing demand. Last winter the plant was to its utmost capacity and the consequences will be next winter unless something is shortly done can only be anticipated. An order has been placed with the Allis, Chalmers Electric Co. of Milwaukee, for the new plant but there is strong doubt as to when it will be installed when called for in the contract.

In the meantime the city commissioners are deliberating on the question as to whether they will temporarily place the proposed gas producer plant at the present power house or erect it on the proposed site at the Gibbons property recently purchased by the city. In connection with their consideration of this question boring operations are now being carried on at the city property on the river and the result of these experiments will have considerable effect on the subsequent decision at which the Commissioners may arrive.

PROVIDE MINES WITH CARS AND THERE WILL BE NO MORE FAMINE

The Provision of Transportation Facilities the Key to the Situation. Mark Drumm, Frank Editor, Discusses Coal Question Lucidly and Interestingly. Declares Labor Difficulties are Settled For Years to Come

"The miners will be pleased and the operators will be satisfied with the coal commission appointed by the President (Edmundson) to investigate the labor conditions in the mines."

This statement was made to a Bulletin representative this morning by Mark Drumm, editor of the Frank Paper, an enterprising weekly published in the town made famous by the great land slide five years ago. The reason for this satisfaction on the part of the miners and operators is found in the fact that Reason is a strong man among the miners and a strong man among the operators. He is equally prominent among the operators. These two, with Hon. A. L. Sifton, chief justice of the supreme court of Alberta, form the commission.

Editor Drumm knows the coal situation perhaps better than any layman in the Province. In his statement to the Bulletin he related the prediction made by President Sherman to the effect that a coal famine was inevitable. He also expressed the opinion that there would be no further difficulties between the miners and operators within the next ten years. And he gave his reasons for saying so.

"Will the coal supply for the west be affected by the recent close down of the mines?" he was asked.

Depends on Railways.

"In my judgment there need be no shortage of coal in any part of the west, either the coming winter or at any other time, if the railways provide the mines of the district known as the Pass, with all the cars they can load. There is no question that these mines have a capacity great enough to meet any demand the country can make upon them. The situation as to whether or not there will be a coal shortage depends wholly upon the ability and inclination of the railways to supply transportation facilities. Assuming that the railways are inclined to supply the cars it then depends upon their ability to do so. I think there is some question about the ability of the railways to afford a full supply of the cars necessary during the movement of the wheat. But there is no good reason why they should not afford a full supply very nearly all the time. If they do this there will be very little difficulty with regard to coal supply, provided the coal dealers and the people themselves take care of their side of the matter. If they do not order their supplies sufficiently far in advance to make the railways to secure their own fuel supply aid at the same time had the commercial coal necessary to fill demands, then there could not fail to be a shortage of coal."

Miners Have the Men.

"As regards the complement of men at the mines, that will not affect the situation, if the other phases of the case are properly worked out. The mines now have more than three-quarters of all the men required, and within another month will have a full staff. It is true that a very large number of men left the district during the recent labor dispute, but they are returning very rapidly and new men are also coming in. It will not be the fault of the coal companies or due to a shortage of men if there is another coal famine."

Pass Coal, Good Coal.

"Vice-president Wylie, of the C.P.R., all during the coal shortage last year, made a very strong point of the claim that The Pass coal was not suitable for domestic purposes. On the strength of that claim justified the course of the C.P.R. in hauling coal from Fort William to relieve the distress in the West, while thousands of tons of The Pass coal stood on tracks waiting to be moved."

Mr. Wylie's claim cannot be substantiated. To illustrate, the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co., some two years ago, conducted a series of tests to determine the relative qualities of Crow's Nest Pass coal as compared with Pennsylvania anthracite, or cooking coal. In numerous of these tests the result was favorable to the Crow's Nest Pass coal in two very notable instances. The value of the Nest coal seems to have been very definitely proven. These were tests against C.N.R. coal against Pohontes coal, always supposed to be the very best bituminous coal produced in the American continent. The tests the Canadian Northern coal had very much the better of the argument and any one who doubts these statements may satisfy himself as to their accuracy by consulting the communications with General Manager, G. S. Lindsey of the Canadian Northern Pass Coal Co. I appreciate Mr. Lindsey will have no hesitancy in supplying the data requested."

Truth Will Help Situation.

"I think if the truth in regard to this subject becomes very generally known among the coal consumers of Alberta and Saskatchewan, this removing any prejudice they may have acquired against Canadian Northern coal, it will have a marked effect on the fuel situation in these provinces. One difficulty has arisen from lack of knowledge of the proper method of firing the coal. The coal from the Pass mines is not screened and there is a large percentage of slack in it. The ordinary layman looking at it in the bulk would say "that is dust," and perhaps refuse to accept it. I have heard, and think it is no doubt true, there were many such cases last winter. But any person who will spend thirty millions trying to learn to fire the coal will not thereafter ask for a better fuel. Being a cooking coal, and the slack not removed, the coal cakes or cokes very quickly after being placed in the stove. If you take a poker and break it up after it has formed into a cake you will find you will have a most satisfactory fire. It is merely a matter of giving coal a little attention."

Should Be No Famine.

"You do not then endorse President Sherman's statement to the effect that there will be no coal famine next year is inevitable?"
"I can neither endorse President Sherman's prediction nor discount it altogether. I can say that I believe there is no ground for such a prediction when based upon Mr. Sherman's reason for it, which, if I understand him correctly, is that there will be a shortage of men. In fact, I believe Mr. Sherman has no doubt altered his ideas himself in that respect by this time. There may be a coal famine but it will not be from this cause, and as I have indicated, it will be from no other cause than lack of transportation facilities, or the short sightedness of the dealers and consumers in failing to place the orders early."

Pass, a Lasting One.

"What is the prospect of the continuance of peace between the miners and the operators?"
The indications at this time are that all labor difficulties are definitely settled for many years. The agreement is for 2 years. The men have returned to work with a better feeling than has prevailed for a long time. It will be the general opinion that with the possible exception of difficulty at Lethbridge, there will be no further trouble in the coal mines."

BORDER WARFARE IN WYOMING

The Cattle and Sheep Ranchers Engaged in Deadly Feud—Eighteen Cowboys and Shepherds Killed Last Year—Sheep Worth $200,000 Destroyed in 1906—Texan Desperados of 1891.

The evils of the open range system have been more and more emphasized in the American West as the area of ranching country becomes gradually diminished. The passing of the rancher in the United States is marked by a bitter border warfare that reminds the reader of the fierce border forays that have inspired so much in song and story in the literature of the Scottish and English border.

The range war, the continuous struggle between the cattle ranchers and the great sheep owners for possession of the wide government ranges of millions of acres in Wyoming has broken out this season in a most aggravated form, and already thousands of cattle and sheep have been killed. A "dead line" has been established and armed bands of cowboys and sheep herders are patrolling the ranges. Many ranchers' houses have been burned and many have been murdered who dared to cross the "dead line."

The conflict is between the cattle men and the sheep men, is never ending, and will continue as long as there is an open range in the last west of Uncle Sam's domain.

The characterization of Badman, Trampas in "The Virginian," by Owen Wister is quoted daily in real life on the plains and in the foothills of Wyoming, the state of the sheep men.

Advantage of the Winchester.

Cattle and sheep cannot live on the same range, and the coming of the one means the going of the other—whichever is the stronger. There can be no compromise except by the force of arms between the two interests.

A herd of cattle can feed over a range and in a few weeks find the grass in as good condition as at first. But when a flock of sheep pass over a pasture everything is eaten, even to the roots of the grass, while the sharp little hoofs of the sheep injure the remaining vestiges of the grass. As a result every living sheep passes with the flock, and recovery will be uncertain. The winds then have chance to pick up the little particles of soil and virtually blow the soil-covering away. Generally, a range over which a flock of sheep has passed cannot be used again for years.

Meeting of Two Adverse Elements.

The cattle men strenuously object to this. The cattle men have been gradually driven westward from Iowa and Nebraska into Wyoming. The sheep men have come eastward from Utah and Idaho. The two parties have made the ranges of Wyoming the theatre of their warfare. The last act in the drama of the American ranching business. Settlers have come into the state, fenced up the government lands, and have circumscribed the limits of the open range.

Survival of the Strongest.

There is scarcely room for both, and now the inevitable conflict of the survival of the strongest is on in terrible earnest. These conditions, which have existed for fifteen years, have become intolerable every year for either the cattle men or the sheep men until today the two parties are facing each other with drawn swords and an imaginary line between them ready to shoot the moment a horse or a hoof crosses that line. Occasionally one or the other inadvertently crosses the line and a fight follows. The defeated party seeks reprisals, ride upon the winner's camp or upon his herds or flocks.

A Case in Point.

About two months ago the big sheep herds of Hugh Dieker, who lives in the Owl Creek country, wandered across the dead line. That night the camp was attacked by masked and armed men. The sheep herds were bound and gagged. The camp was burned and the horses killed. Eight thousand sheep were driven into a ravine and the work of extermination was begun. Armed with clubs and knives the raiders went among them and killed 4,000. The remainder escaped in scattered flocks to the foothills, where it took six weeks to gather them. Meanwhile the flocks were weakly decimated by the marauding wolves. The loss is put at $15,000. The members of the attacking party were unknown. Yet Dieker knows they came from the cattle men. He will get revenge.

Once Extinguished.

Before the Dieker raid the sheep camp of J. A. Walmer, near Armadillo, Wyoming, was attacked and 2,000 sheep killed as well as burning the entire outfit.

In October, 1905, the sheep outfit of James Henderson, near Sheridan, was burned. By the side of the iron portions of the wagon the charred bodies of two of the herders. Within a radius of a mile 5,000 dead sheep were strewn, shot or clubbed to death. The cattle men did it, the sheep men said.

How the Feud is Made.

Usually the raid is made on some outfit farm from the home ranch, where one to three herders are employed. But at times these raids have been made on the home ranches, and sometimes the ranch house, the feeding pens, hay and fodder being given to the sheep. If the ranchers protest, as he often does, he is often gagged or led away and left riderless on the plains or in the foothills, or, as in some instances is killed.

EAST RAISING MONUMENT
FOR SOLDIERS OF THE CITY

Magnificent Statue to be Unveiled in Montreal, May 24 in Commemoration of the Valiant Part Played by Strathcona Horse in Boer War.

In commemoration of the Strathcona Horse and the gallant part they played in the South African war, a handsome statue will be unveiled at Montreal on May 24th.

The erection of this tribute to the men whom the west gave to the war will be attended with a splendid display of Canadian soldiery; it will be the feature of the day.

Design of Monument.

The idea expressed by the monument is simple but very effective. A French scout has just dismounted from his horse and is examining the trail of the Boers. While this engaged a shell from a concealed battery bursts at his feet. The statue shows the horse rearing in fright, while the rider is checking it, and at the same time gazing intently off in the direction from which the shell has come. His calmness is in striking contrast to the fear shown by the horse. Every expression and line of the horse shows fear. No details are lacking the eyes are wild, the nostrils distended, the lip drawn down, the ears thrown back, even the tail is drawn in fear. The sculptor has cleverly depicted life and action in every muscle. A French scout, the great French soldier, is the statue. The horse is well understood and finely composed and modeled."

Paardeberg Commemorated.

The two panels for the monument are also works of art. They represent battle scenes at Paardeberg and Komati River, and are tributes to the bravery and gallantry of the Strathcona Horse. The Paardeberg panel is in honor of the work done by the Canadians in forcing Cronje to surrender. It shows the characteristic mode of fighting in vague among soldiers. The Komati River panel is in honor of the saving of the guns by the Canadians, a feat which won the praise of General Buller.

The statue is of bronze, stands 16 feet high and cost $32,000. It is said to be the largest equestrian statue that was ever shipped across the ocean to this continent, and several transportation companies refused to handle it.

Work is an evidence of the work of Canadian art as it is the work of George W. Hill. He has studied every detail and his work shows the touch of a master.

Boys of Boer War.

Mr. Hill was born in 1862 at Shipton, Que. the son of Mr. G. T. Hill, a marble dealer of Richmond. He learned his father's trade and became a sculptor. He has been more than columns and pillars in the marble blocks, on which he chiselled from day to day. The love of art and the promptings of ambition led him to leave his marble cutting and study in Paris at the famous Academie Julianne. He spent from 1880 until 1894 in Paris, and then returned to Montreal, where he opened a studio and began his life's work. His efforts were largely confined to architectural sculpture, although his talents lay in another direction.

REGINA SCHOOLS CLOSED DOWN

Precautionary Action Against the Spread of Smallpox in the City.

Regina, Sask., May 17.—Owing to what is generally looked upon as almost criminal negligence of a person suffering from a mild attack of smallpox letting his children attend two of the public schools without taking the trouble to first ascertain the character of his illness, it has been decided by the city authorities acting upon the advice of the medical police officer to shut down two of the schools in question for a fortnight. So far as can be gathered the disease was first brought into the city from Moose Jaw where there have been one or two cases of a light character.

An Interesting Patent.

Minot, N.D., May 17.—F. J. Lyman has secured a patent on an interesting invention which he believes will save the railroads of the Northwest over $5,000,000 annually. The patent is a spark printer and will be used on the smokestack of a locomotive engine where it will grind the sparks into fragments, and send them out of the engine in the form of fine cinders rather than living sparks of fire. The sparks are ground by a turbine engine, which have teeth something like in a threshing machine. The cylinders will be operated either by the force of the smoke in being forced out of the engine, or by a turbine engine. Mr. Lyman says that the cylinders, being operated on the principle of balance wheels, will create a draft and thereby save a double purpose.

A case of this kind occurred last August on the cattle ranch of Joe Lyons in the foothills of the Big Horn mountains. The sheep men attacked the ranch in the night, and the fight which followed lasted two days. In the end Lyons and two cow punchers were killed, and the ranch left in smoking ashes.

Shot in the Dark.

Two cowboys were killed and five severely wounded when the round up camp was fired into last December down in the Oil Creek country. The fire came out of the darkness while the men were lying around the camp fire. There was just a single volley. Not a single glimpse was ever caught by the cattle men, but they credit the outrage to the sheep men.

It is estimated that in 1906 the loss in sheep alone in this manner was 200,000, and it is known that eighteen men lost their lives.

In Other Days.

The great range war of the west occurred in 1891. That time it was the ranchers against the settlers. It that year the cattle men of Wyoming banded themselves together to intimidate the settlers who were coming in and looking up homesteads in all directions.

The Wyoming men were tender hearted, but they imported a band of forty-two Texans with Tom Horn as their head. This troop was recruited from the Texas-Mexican border. Armed with rifles, revolvers, dynamite, a small cannon and poison, the desperadoes began operations in eastern Wyoming, driving out the settlers, murdering others, poisoning water holes and killing stock wholesale.

The settlers organized for defence. Two of the Texan gang, Ray and Champion, were surrounded in their cabin. The defenders held out all day. Ray received a shot in the lungs and wanted water. His pal crawled out under cover of night and procured a bottle. As he was finding his way back the moon came out and he was discovered. Though severely wounded by a fusillade of bullets, he reached the shack and barred the door, but was unable to defend it any longer. The settlers set fire to the place and burned the two wounded men to death.

The final stand of the Texan intimidators was made at the "T" ranch, with a company of 100 armed settlers. The Texans took refuge in the corral which was surrounded by a high stockade. For a whole day the fight went on, with loss on both sides.

Settlers Conquer Texans.

The story is graphically told by one who participated: "Then Flag got a private schooner, piled poles across it to serve as breast works, and with aid of others pushed it towards the corral. Several others were secured, and soon the corral was surrounded by these arks of safety, behind which the determined settlers pushed their way to the corral, while their companions covered their advance with Winchester. The arks got within ten feet of the corral.

"You fellows there" rang out a stentorian voice from behind the arks, "Three minutes for prayers, then I'll rain bombs of dynamite down on you."

Within the corral there was silence for a moment. Then the Texans succumbed and begged for mercy. "We will leave the state and never come back."

"Say your prayers" sternly came back the reply from the arks.

"The settlers were preparing to exterminate the entire gang with rifle and dynamite, and then up from the valley a mile away came 200 United States cavalry men.

"The Texans were arrested and taken to Cheyenne by the soldiers.

President Harrison issued a proclamation calling upon the settlers to return to their homes. The settlers sent back the laconic reply: "No places to go. Homes all burned. Please send further instructions."

THE CUT WORM.

To the Editor of the Bulletin.
Sir,—I had great pleasure in reading the article in the Bulletin upon cut-worms.

I may say, sir, that I have given a great part of my life to the study of insect life and would like to throw out a few suggestions here. First, protect your bird life, as many birds live on insects only. Second, try to get clear of the cut-worm. The best way to do this would be to catch the perfect insect, that is to say, the small black or brown beetle. Should you be fortunate in getting one female you at once destroy the source from whence comes hundreds of eggs. It may not be possible to do what I shall now suggest, in a large field of beet roots, etc., but the farmer might try the experiment.

Place small boxes of bran in your fields and cover them carefully over now and again, and I think you will find many of the perfect insects in your traps, as they will go these to deposit their eggs.

The larva or worm will live and grow fat in the box. Then destroy the perfect insect and larva, and you will have done something to stop the pest of cut-worms. This plan could be carried out well in small gardens.

Yours faithfully,
TOM F. MAYBON.

EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE

To the Editor of the Bulletin.
Sir,—The embargo upon Canadian cattle at English ports commented upon in your article today opens a very large question and an important one for the Canadian cattle shipper.

I was interested some time back in the formation of a company in England with the express object of meeting the difficulty of having to immediately kill cattle upon their arrival at English ports, before they had had time to recuperate the effects of the voyage. I find interest of several English and Irish M.P.'s of the English House of Commons in the matter, and held several contracts for the purchase of suitable land near the leading ports for the feeding and grazing of newly arrived cattle.

It would have been an inexpensive scheme at the time the preliminaries were in hand.

As your paper no doubt reaches many well-wishers in the old country, they should unite and assist the efforts of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal government to remove this embargo. A plan of this kind should strongly impress itself upon the government or private enterprise to take it up to a practical manner.

I am, sir, yours faithfully,
"KERUBA."

REPLY TO MR. DALY.

To the Editor.
Sir,—In taking trees up leave as much earth as possible to the roots, and disturb the roots as little as possible. Dig a hole large enough to permit the roots to get in without being cramped, throw some of the surface soil into the hole, and it around and make a good soft bed for the tree. Pour a pailful of water into the hole, get down on your knees and with your hand work the soil between the roots well, pack it firmly as you are filling in around the tree, leave a little hollow, so that the rain and dew will have a tendency of running towards the base instead of away from it, water through the summer when you think it necessary, and you will experience no trouble in growing all kinds of trees. I will take pleasure in showing you my trees and shrubs at any time if you will call and providing you with maple and caragena seeds for season.—Yours truly,
N. SUTHERLAND.

That the "Semi-ready" system of tailoring must ultimately prevail, just as the manufacture of the finest boots have vanquished the old custom-made boot, is the universal belief of the many who have watched the splendid growth of the idea.

The one difficulty which Semi-ready tailoring had to surmount was that of conveying in words the exact meaning of the many innovations and improvements introduced under the one name, "Semi-ready."

This difficulty was offset by the enthusiasm of all who bought Semi-ready garments and told their friends about the Physique Type System, based on height and weight measurements, and meeting every variation caused by environments or physical temperament.

FURNACEEASY MATTER TO REMOVE GRATES

If necessity requires, it is an easy matter to remove the grates from the Sunshine.

Just loosen the cotter pin (see the top arrow pointing at it) and the grates on the right can be lifted out. Repeat the operation on the left, and you can do the same with the remaining grates.

Could any operation be easier or simpler? These four grates are made of heavy cast-iron with the strongest kind of bull dog teeth. Heavy and strong enough to grind up the biggest clinker into particles small enough to sift through the narrow openings between the teeth.

What's left in the ash-pan is not worth sifting. If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine," write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

EDMONTON OLYMPIC GAMES STRATHCONA O GREATEST EVER

Result of the Football Game in Exhibition Park Last Night.

The football match between the Edmonton City team and Strathcona, on the Exhibition grounds last night ended in a tie, neither team scoring. The Strathcona were late in arriving and the tie could not be played on account of darkness.

The game was only exciting in spots; as neither team appeared to be in the best of condition, although Edmonton kept the ball in Strathcona's territory the greater portion of the play. But their kicking on goal was very inaccurate. The Strathcona forwards got away on occasions with rushes that looked dangerous, but they rarely got farther than Allen and Short.

Strathcona has a fair forward line that needs little of practice if they intend winning the inter-city championship. Bowler, Jones and Carmichael played a good defence game, while Judge, centre forward, played the best game on the field.

Edmonton's defence handled anything that came their way in good style. The forwards were poor in passing and were inclined to wait too long before kicking. They are faster than the Strathcona men and would make a better showing with an improvement in the combination work.

The lineup was:

STRATHCONA EDMONTON
Bowden goal Slade
Byers right back Elliott
Carmichael left back Short Cuthbertson right half Young Ellis center half Nelson
Newman inside right McEldish
Sheppard outside right Macdonald
Judge center McKelvey
Hardy inside left Woolfenden

The teams made a good appearance in their uniforms. The Edmonton wore black sweaters with gold bands and black knickerbockers. Strathcona sported light blue sweaters and white pants.

Strathcona by good kicking, worked the ball down on the Edmonton goal, but Slade saved. Another kick by Strathcona was wide. Edmonton forwards pressed around the Strathcona goal, but their kick on goal missed. Edmonton was now kicking and outplaying Strathcona, keeping the ball well down, the back line feeling the forwards well, but a Strathcona man was always in the way or poor kicking on goal prevented a score. During this half Nelson and Judge culled head-on and Judge had to retire for repairs. He was of a nasty scaly wound, but pluckily resumed playing after having his head bandaged.

Strathcona appeared to improve on the opening of the second half and their rushes for a time worried the Edmonton defence. Edmonton were pressing hard when the referees' whistle blew for full time. It was too dark to continue playing to break the tie.

London is Making Great Preparations for the Big Athletic Event

London, May 17.—The Olympic games, which are to take place in London in 1908, will form the fourth of the series of Olympics which was inaugurated at Athens in 1896, and continued at Paris in 1900 and St. Louis in 1904. Olympic games, the chief factor in the Olympic movement, which was initiated in 1894 by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Olympic committee, in the hope that it might prove for the modern world the same services which were rendered to the Hellenic communities by the Olympic games of Elis. The movement is, however, intended to include, besides athletic sports, contests in art, literature, music, etc., and to include the sciences of physics, chemistry and development. Such conferences were held with considerable success at Havre in 1897 and Brussels in 1900.

The working of interest in the Olympic movement dates from the meeting of the International Olympic committee in London in 1904, under the patronage of His Majesty, King Edward VII. The Olympic games were held at the Mansion House (by permission of the Lord Mayor), and the final one at the Sports club. It was then decided that the olympiad of 1908 should be held in London. The immediate object of this visit of the International Olympic committee was the proposal to found a British Olympic Association, in order to bring Great Britain into touch with the Olympic movement. This association was founded at a meeting held at the House of Commons in the summer of 1908, when W. H. Grenfell, M. P. (now Lord Desborough), was elected chairman. A small council, composed of the chief founders of the association, was then appointed, with directions to invite the leading sporting associations in each form of sport to appoint a member to represent it in the council, the object being to secure that full information as to views of experts in every branch of sport should be at the disposal of the council without making that body so numerous as to be in capable of discussing in full meeting all questions that might arise. This representation has been gradually secured, and there is now scarcely any form of sport which is not represented either by an official delegate of the English governing association or by its president or secretary.

A Deliberative Body. The council does not claim to be anything more than a deliberative body, in which representatives of the different associations meet to concert on the best method securing the due influence and representation of this country in Olympic games and conferences; or, when the games are held in England to cooperate with athletes in their organization. The results of its deliberations on any athletic question require in all cases the assent of the association concerned before they can be carried out, and no question of proportionate representation on these arises. The association was represented at the Brussels conference on physical education, held in June, 1902. It was represented also at the conference organized at Paris, in May, 1906, by the International Olympic committee, to consider the possibility of combining contests in art, literature, etc., with the celebration of modern Olympics, a conference attended by a large number of leading representatives of French art and literature and many eminent foreigners. The association was also instrumental in raising funds and in assisting British competitors to attend the Olympic games at Athens in 1906, although these games lie outside the international Olympic series.

During the early summer of 1908 it was announced that the Olympic proposal for Rome in 1908 was, owing to local reasons, impossible in that city, and that the International Olympic committee had addressed to the British Olympic association, through Lord Desborough, an invitation to undertake this Olympic. The first step taken by the British Olympic association on receipt of this invitation was to address a circular to the associations governing sport in England asking for their opinion upon the proposal, and stating that if it was decided to hold this Olympic in London the council proposed to ask the governing associations to draw up programs and regulations, to superintend the carrying out of these programs in each sport, and to nominate a representative to serve on the council of the British Olympic association for the purpose of organizing the Olympic of 1908. By the middle of November, favorable replies having been received from the great majority of the associations and official representatives appointed, a resolution was passed at the council meeting held on November 19 that these Olympic games be held in London. On Nov. 27 a letter from Lord Desborough was communicated to the press, sketching the proposals of the association and laying down the following principles on which the games would be conducted:

First.—That as many forms of sport be included as may be practicable.
Second.—That the events be only open to bona-fide amateurs.
Third.—That the council do not pay any expenses of any competitor whatever, either for travelling or for residence in this country.
Fourth.—That the games be held in July, 1908.
Fifth.—That every competitor be officially entered by the association controlling the particular sport which he is chosen to represent his country, and these entries be limited in number for each event.
Sixth.—That the prizes consist solely of medals, with the addition of certain cash prizes.

Free of Expenses. In view of the fact that the council was under consideration whereby the necessary buildings, tracks, enclosures, and an arena for 100,000 spectators would be provided free of expense to the Olympic association, together with a proportion of the receipts to go towards the other expenses connected with the games.

In addition, the hope was expressed that from the communications which would pass between representatives of different countries as to the program and regulations of this Olympic, a permanent tie might result which would lead to a large extent govern future Olympic games.

Representatives of the four city league teams and the Strathcona team held a meeting after the game last night and arranged the conditions on which Strathcona will be allowed to enter the league. The only conditions imposed by the Edmonton team were that Strathcona should enter two teams and will only be allowed to play for the inter-city championship, as the trophy is for competition among the city teams only. The schedule of the city league stands as before and the Strathcona will be arranged on days intervening between the dates in the schedule originally drafted. Although the Brackman team was not represented, it was understood they are anxious to come in. It is more than likely Brackman, Kerr and Strathcona city teams will represent the south side.

Representatives of the city intermediate football clubs will meet in the Alberta Hotel this evening at 8:45 o'clock for the purpose of arranging a schedule for the season's games and drafting rules.

The St. Paul's team to play Brackman-Kerr this evening in Strathcona will be: Moorhouse, Jennings, Tucker, Prendergast, Snodden, Dykes, Ren, Livesey and Macdonald. The game starts at 7:15 o'clock.

Miss Butten Leaves for England. New York, May 17.—Miss Mary E. Sutton, the California lawn tennis expert, called for England today aboard the steamer Celtic. She will endeavor to regain the All-England National Women's Single Champion ship, which she first won in 1906, and then lost to Mrs. L. Chambers, nee Miss D. K. Douglas, last year. The tournaments will be held on the courts at Wimbledon, London. Miss Sutton has received a letter from Mrs. George W. Hildard, the ex-English champion and the most influential woman in lawn tennis affairs abroad. The English woman wrote that arrangements have been made by her to bring a woman's team to America this summer, including Miss Cosma and Miss Eastlake Smith. The Britons will compete for the new international challenge cup offered by Edwin Sheafe, of Boston. They will play at Boston, Newport, New York and Cincinnati.

WETASKIWIN WALLOPED AN EDMONTON TEAM.

A team of Edmonton ball players went down to Wetaskiwin yesterday and met the Wetaskiwin stars and were trimmed to a peak. The score was 10-1. The boys had no practice and were in very poor shape to go up against a bunch like Wetaskiwin. It was rather chilly, so many spectators turned out to watch the game. It was arranged on sight the game to be played at 10 o'clock. Wetaskiwin will play a return match here in a week or so and the boys will get in training at once. The teams were:

Edmonton—Vining, Oday, Magill, Macdonald, Lyon, DeWolf, Smith, Marsh, Carr.

Wetaskiwin—Pittman, Goucher, O'Keith, Harriet, Berry, Moyn, Murray, A. Murray, Martin.

Score—
Wetaskiwin 10
Edmonton 1
That Edmonton has junior baseball talent of the star variety was very much in evidence in the match played last night between High School and McKay Avenue School on the Second street grounds. It was an eye-opener to see the youngsters seat the ball off over the lot and pick up the hot liners with ease. McKay Avenue went down to a glorious defeat by a score of 12 to 2. E. H. Garrison umpired. The Western Canada league opens Monday with Edmonton at Lethbridge and Calgary at Medicine Hat.

There is a strong movement on foot toward the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building. The skating rink will be used as a roller rink this summer and the curling rink turned into an indoor pleasure garden. The Supreme Court held an adjourned meeting here this week.

NEW YORK STOCK COMMENT.

Securities Market Cull-Grain and Cotton More Attractive Now. Bank Gain $3,000,000 From the Interior.

New York, May 17.—The stock market today continued to show almost entire neglect on the part of the general world of capital and finance. Such speculative interest as exists in a more attractive field in the grain and cotton markets. There seems to be a proportion of legitimate demand for securities in the open market and there is almost a striking absence of any large selling. The undertone of the market is heavy, as is almost invariably the case in periods of extreme dullness. The sagging tendency today was a sympathetic reflection from the rising wheat market. North American responded to the announcement of a sale of $5,000,000 five per cent. five years' notes and General Electric and Atchison, which were thence in the strength of exchange is foreign exchange again sought gold exports into discussion. A special week, are also distinguished for the recent convertible bond issues.

New York, May 17.—Bradstreet tomorrow will say: The cold late spring affects Canada's retail trade, and is reflected in slower wholesale trade and collections. The slackness of re-order business gives less concern, however, because manufacturers and wholesalers are so generally behind on deliveries. A fair business is being done on full account and prices are firm. This wheat crop will be needed late, and a decrease in area is probable. Uniformly good weather is requisite from now. Montreal reports the farmers busy on the land and retail trade in Quebec is affected thereby. The longshoremen's strike affects shipping. Toronto reports retail trade light, but fair trade in food. Western collections are slow in Manitoba as farmers are busy seeding. Collections drag and real estate speculation is reported as attracting money.

Failure for the week number 22 as against 18 last week and 12 in this week a year ago.

NEW YORK WHEAT.

December Close at 108-Firm Tone Still Maintained Despite Bar Reports.

New York, May 17.—Wheat, receipts 20,000, exports 17,363, sales 6,200,000 futures.

A weak opening in wheat today induced by the fine weather and big Argentine shipments, was replaced by one of the most excited advances of the week. Prices climbed over four cents a bushel in tremendous speculative buying, impelled by bull reports from winter wheat states, but broke near the close, under profit taking and closed 2 to 2 1/4 cents net higher. May closed 106; Sept. 103 3/4 to 106, closed 105 1/2; December 105 to 109 1/2, closed 108.

New York Cals and Leans.

New York, May 17.—Money on call, steady; highest 2 1/4 per cent, lowest 2, ruling rate 2 1/4; last loan 2 1/4, closing bid 2 1/4, offered at 2 1/4.

Provide Mines With

ing industry of Southern Alberta and Eastern British Columbia for two years at least. My conviction is that it is settled for a much longer time, for the reason that if we do have two years of peace, which seems certain there will be such an enormous development in coal mining in that time. Such prodigious development in the prairie provinces generally, that the operators and the men will find it mutually advantageous to reach some basis for a continuance of peaceful operations. This will be materially assisted by reason of the new clause in a agreement which provides for a joint arbitration board. And there is another reason which prompts me in taking an optimistic view. The C.P.R. has voluntarily granted an increase of 10 cents per ton in the price it pays for its coal. At first glance this does not look like a very big item, but when you consider the C.P.R. takes something like three-quarters of the total coal output of the P.A.S. it will be seen that it means a great deal to the operators.

Increase Natural.

"What is the cause of the reported increase in the price of coal at the mines?"

"It is not far to seek. And there ought to be no outcry against it on the part of the public if the increase is not too great. None of the mines with possibly one exception have even made any money. I am intimately enough acquainted with the situation to be able to say positively that this is true. They were barely getting it a position to make money when the increase in wages was granted. The increase, though small, makes it impossible for any of the mines to do better than break even, without there is an increase in the price of coal. I think the statement will not be contravened that during the recent dispute the public took sides against the operators, and said: 'Pay the increase and put up the price of coal to meet it.' Our own minister of public works said it publicly to the operators at Fernie. In my opinion he was justified. There had been no increase in the price of coal when I left the P.A.S. There may have been an increase of Bankhead, without an increase being declared at The Pass, but it may be true also that the operators have announced an increase at The Pass, and if they have, it is no greater than 10 per cent. I do not think the public can complain of any serious ill-treatment."

The Life Story

preminating qualities, is a masterly achievement.

The scene in the Kirk session when the father brought the case of his daughter up for judgment, is thus described:

"It seemed to the elders that Lachlan dealt hardly with young people and those who had gone astray, but they learned one evening his justice had at least no partiality. Burnbrae said afterwards that Lachlan 'looked like a ghost comin' in at the door,' but he sat in silence in the shadow and no one marked the agony on his face till the end."

"If that is all the business Moderator, I feel to bring a case of discipline before the session and ask them to do their duty. It is known to me that a young woman who has been a member of this church, has left her home and gone into the far country. There will be no use in summoning her to appear before this session, for she will never be again seen in this parish. I move that she be cut off from the roll, and her name be—"

Lachlan's voice broke, but in an instant he recovered himself—"her name is Flora Campbell."

Carmichael confessed to me that he was stricken dumb, and that Lachlan's action had held him with an awful fascination.

"It was Burnbrae that first found a voice and showed that night the fine delicacy of heart that may be hidden behind a plain exterior."

"Moderator, this is a terrible calamity that has befallen our brother, and a'm feelin' as if a bed laid a bairn o' me sin, for a sweeter lassie delves cross our kirk door. I want to know what has happened or where she has gone, and no word o' this will cross our lips. Her father's done mair than cud be expected o' mortal man, an' noo we have our duty. It's no the way o' this session to cut off any member o' the flock at a stroke, and we'll no be givin' 'a' Flora Campbell, A' move moderator, that her case be left to her father and ye!" and our neighbor may depend on it that Flora's name and his sin will be mentioned in our prayers, like mortal' an' nicht till the role shepherd o' the sheep brings her home."

"Burnbrae paused, and then with tears in his voice—men do not weep in Drumtochty—'With the Lord there is mercy and with Him is plentiful redemption.'"

It will be difficult to find in the literature of Scotland a more touching narrative than that of Flora's return, and its effect upon her old father.

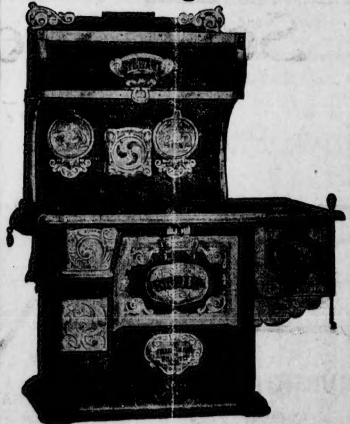

The Doctor Hears and His Ride.

But of all the characters in that full-flavored series there is none so truly grand as that of Dr. MacNevin. Worn out by service until he became a weatherbeaten and battered wreck, following the call of duty over mountain and moor, through floods and 'scaups, never looking for recompense and accepting less than half the fees he was entitled to for his services, the village doctor was the greatest hero of the clan, and it was no wonder the people almost worshipped him.

Here is the description of his passage through the floods of the Tachy with the great surgeon of the Queen from Edinburgh, who was to perform an operation that was to save the life of Tammas Mitchell's wife, who was lying beyond all human aid save that the great man could render:

"With the first plunge into the bed of the stream, the water rose to the axles, and then it crept up to the shafts, so that the surgeon could feel his tapping about his feet, while the doctor began to quiver, and it seemed as if it were to be carried away. Sir George was as brave as most men."

but he had never forced a Highland river in flood, and the mass of black water racing past beneath, behind him, affected his imagination and shook his nerves. He rose from his seat and ordered MacLure to turn back, declaring that he would be continued utterly and eternally if he allowed himself to be drowned for any reason.

"Set down!" thundered MacLure; "condemned you will swim or later you'll be shirk yir duty, but through the water ye gang day!"

"Both men spoke much more strongly at last, but this was what they intended to say, and it was MacLure that prevailed.

MacLure walked his feet along the ground with cunning art and held his shoulder against the stream; MacLure lent forward in his seat, a rein in each hand, and his eyes fixed on Hillocks, who was now standing up to the waist in the water, shouting directions and cheering on horse and driver.

"Hand for the right, doctor; there's a hole yonder. Keep on o' for one sake. Steady it; yir dastie! fine. Steady mon, steady. Yir at yir! deep—set; sit heavy on yir seat. Up the channel now, an' ye'll be out o' the water. Weel done, Joss; weel done, an' mare! Mak straight for me, doctor, an' All gl' ye th' road out. Ma word, ye've done yir best, bith o' ye this mornin'!" cried Hillocks, splashing up to the dearest now in the shallows.

"Sall, it was ticht an' go for a moment in the middle; a Hielan' foel is a little chawchaw' read in the snow time, but ye're safe now."

Claude Aston, a young man living near Bowman, was instantly killed on Friday afternoon by a falling tree.

Revival of the Vogue in Bracelets

During the past year, we have sold more Bracelets than in the preceding three.

Paris, the City of Fashion, sent forth her decree: the reign of elbow sleeves became supreme, and Bracelets attained an unprecedented vogue.

They are found here in the most artistic forms of development from the plain gold bangle to the rich hand-pierced and gem-set examples, priced from $10.00 upwards.

Eighteen illustrations of the newest Bracelets free upon request to our Mail Order Department.

FOUR RENEWALS WERE REFUSED

Chief License Inspector Returns From Trip South. Provisions of New Act.

W. A. Doyle, chief license inspector for the Province has returned from a two weeks' trip of inspection through the Westsaskin, Dayland, Lacombe, Olds, Calgary, McLeod, Lethbridge, Pincher Creek, Frank and Medicine Hat districts. In each of these places meetings of the district license commissioners were held and renewals of licenses granted.

Four Renewals Refused. Renewals were refused to the Okanagan hotel in Kamour, because of the unsanitary condition of the premises; to the Palace hotel in Calgary because of a further lease of the property could not be obtained and in Bellevue because of the unsafe condition of the hotel building. In this latter instance the building owned by the license had been blown almost off its foundation by the winds. The renewals of a wholesale license was also refused in Blairmore.

The meetings of the commission were attended by practically all the licensees in the various districts.

Explained the New Act. The chief license inspector took the opportunity thus offered to draw the attention of the hotel keepers to the provisions of the new act which comes into force on July 1st next. The principal features of this act as explained by Mr. Doyle, is the provision for increased accommodation in the hotels.

Increased Accommodation. After September, 1908, all hotels in incorporated cities must be provided with 42 bedrooms, exclusive of the rooms required for the accommodation of the hotel employees and the effect of this may be more definitely grasped when it is known that in Edmonton there are now more than three hotels which can not meet the regulations. In towns, hotels must have 30 bedrooms, and in villages 20. Outside the cities and towns the license must provide stabling accommodation in connection with his hotel for 16 horses. In the case of new hotels this regulation of the new act goes into force July 1st next.

Limiting of Licensees. The price for the best costume in the football aggregation was awarded to Tommy. There were some very natty costumes displayed, and a lively football match between picked teams was played.

The hall held in Abbott's restaurant was a decided success, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Altogether we were all pleased to see the football association's financial success, for no pains were spared in making it a success.

The license fees will be raised in cities of over 10,000, namely Edmonton and Calgary, from $210 to $420. The new act will also strengthen the hands of the department in the prosecution of the illicit sale of liquor. It provides a strong lever for the elimination of "Blind Pigs." Under this provision the department is required only to prove that liquor was or about to be consumed to secure a conviction. And no appeal is permissible.

May Suspend Licensees. The new act also gives power to the license commissioners to suspend a license in case the premises of a licensee are not maintained in a sanitary condition. The license year ends June 30. There are at present 255 hotel licenses in the province. Meetings of the license commissioners of Vermilion and Ft. Saskatchewan will be held on May 20 and 21 respectively. Mr. Doyle will attend these.

Presbyterian Assembly Opens. Columbus, Ohio, May 17.—The Presbyterian General Assembly was opened to-day by the new moderator, Rev. Wm. H. Roberts, of Philadelphia, who was elected by acclamation yesterday. After prayer the chairman introduced Governor Harris, who on behalf of the state delivered an address of welcome to the one thousand commissioners and their wives. Mayor Badger welcomed the assembly on behalf of the city.

QUARTER OF A CENTURY'S WORK

Among the Indians of Alberta. Mr. Youmans, Veteran Indian Teacher Visits the City.

The Bulletin yesterday afternoon received a very pleasant visit from one of Northern Alberta's old timers in the person of Mr. James A. Youmans, of Battle River, who is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Youmans has been a subscriber to The Bulletin for the past twenty-six years, almost from the date of its first publication, and he has watched with interest and pride its development from the modest weekly to its present proportions.

At the Battle River Mr. Youmans is superintendent of the Methodist Indian Mission, where he has taken charge temporarily after a retirement of seven years.

In the year 1880 the veteran Indian teacher arrived in Edmonton, and a short time later entered upon missionary work among the Indians of White Fish Lake, northeast of the city. He remained there six years. His story of the rebellion of 1880 and the fear of the white people then living among the Indians is an interesting one. The White Fish Indians remained loyal, however, and the missionary and his family escaped without molestation.

In succeeding years Mr. Youmans was stationed at Morley, Calgary and Beaver Hills, where he labored among the Indians with good effect. As a result of his work many of those with whom he came in contact among the then semi-civilized tribes have accepted the teaching of the gospel, and to him is due the credit for much of the pioneer missionary work in this country.

Mr. Youmans, in speaking of the present late spring and the probable result, was of the opinion, with prevalent conditions, viz. absence of frost in the ground and heavy snow fall remaining till the warm weather, that there would be grand crops. Those who have done flat ploughing, he said, would be doubly fortunate, but there is no fear, however, of their having left that work till the spring.

Mr. Youmans has been visiting his daughter, who is a student at Alberta College. He returns to his home this afternoon.

The firm since they opened in Vegreville has worked up an immense business under the able management of Mr. Inkster. Through the untiring energies of the genial Inkster, the business has reached what it is.

The lumber yard site is east of Main street and located on First avenue. No better site could be obtained if the whole town was searched.

The dam on the Vermilion broke loose last night. There is no Johnstown horror to relate. While the village was sleeping the water simply undermined the bank and made good its escape before morning. The promoters of the scheme hired, as they thought, a competent man to build it, but he proved a failure. The dam was built on poor principles, and without using any piles. It will be rebuilt in proper shape.

The Roman Catholic separate school board have purchased half a block of land near the mission, and are going to build a large and commodious school.

Stephanian Gate Nominations. Associated Press Dispatch. Madison, Wis., May 17.—The nomination of Jesse Stephens, a Democrat in the Republican arena last night as United States senator to succeed John C. Spooner, resigned, was to-day formally ratified at a joint assembly.
